Rick,

What's up Peggy. This year was pretty cool for our first year in high school. If you play ball next year, it'll be even better.

I hope we still have as many classes next year ~~than~~^{as} we did this year so we can make fun of all our teachers. See ya this summer and remember, "You gotta pass your paiz."

A YEAR OF CLASS

A "CLASSY" YEAR

"A year of class" simply, yet eloquently describes the 1993 East Henderson High student body. With the arrival of the freshmen and sophomores on campus, life was a bit hectic at first, but everything gradually settled down to "normal." Hit with new faces and challenges students managed to rise above it all and shine with pride. Classy describes life here at East High with perfect clarity. As every event, from magazine sale kick-offs to prom night our students showed why they were the best in the state. Not satisfied with being average, everyone on campus strove to excel. Whether excelling in the classroom or on the playing field we made sure to do it all with class.

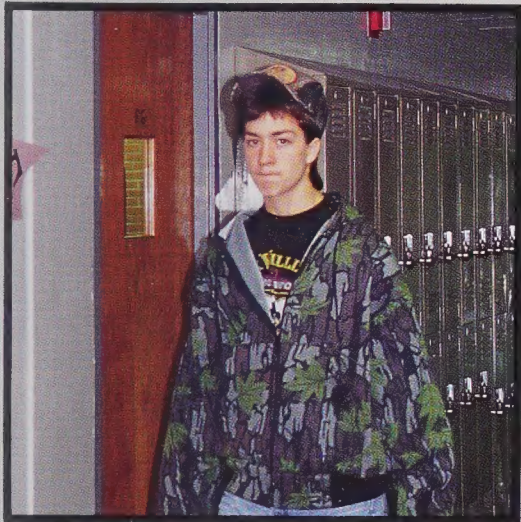

"I just had it!", explains Suzanne Dekiezer to David Sigmon. He, like the rest of us, wants to know what 'it' is!

"You're so silly!", says Stacey Hice to Derek Orr. When it comes to these two, joking is not uncommon.

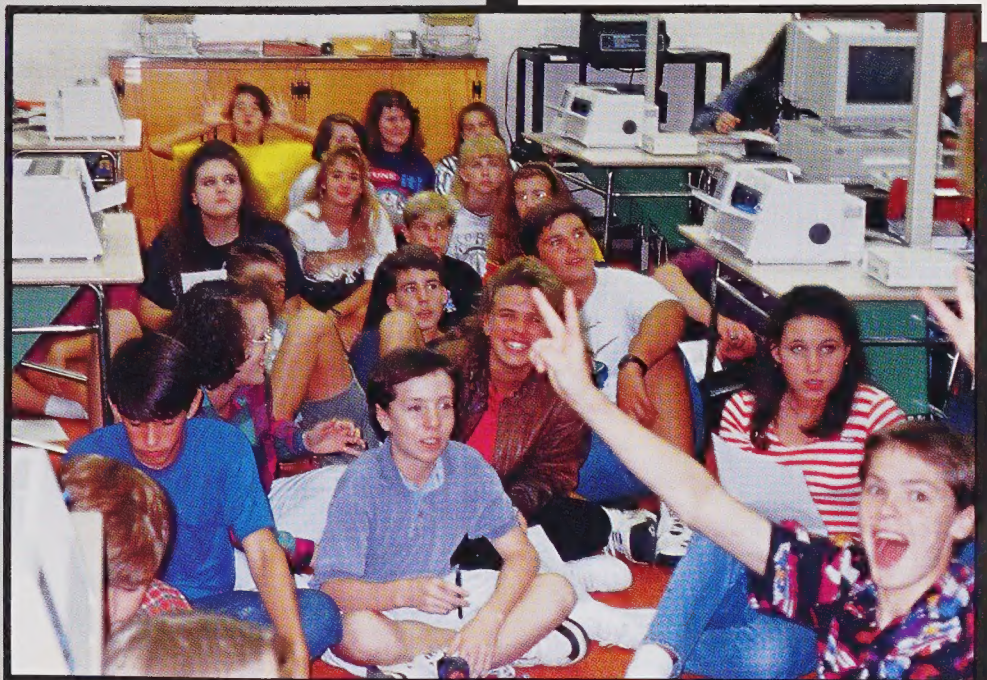

Alicia Mendoza and friends are happy that it's finally 3:05. Aren't we all!!

Late again, Harley? Haven't you heard about the new lunch detention?

"Look Out! It's gonna blow!", yells Brent Carter. If chemicals are involved, Joe Murphy is the last person you want messing with them!

WE DO THINGS WITH "CLASS"

The school year of 1993-94 started out with a lot of confusion, since the freshmen joined the high school scene. Even though the freshmen were beginners they soon found their place at East Henderson High School. The Seniors and Juniors started out the year knowing the keys to survival here at East. Most of these upperclassmen were able to help our new arrivals find those all important areas like the bathroom and cafeteria. All the classes were able to join together to make this a year of success and ultimate class.

“This year has gone pretty good. The ninth and tenth graders have adjusted well, even though they know that the Seniors rule the school.”

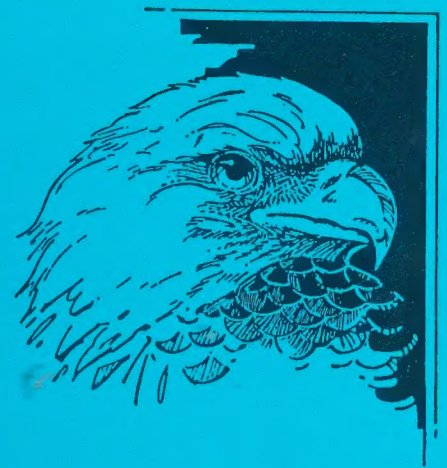

“Even though this is the last I’ll see of my high school years, I hope it won’t be the last year I’ll see my friends.”

STUDENT LIFE

Class

"SPIRIT WITH CLASS"

"SPIRIT WEEK '93"

"Brian Smith, Michael Kleiner, Cory Hoots, and John Skipper, the four varsity football captains, make their way out to the field to defeat another team and lead the Eagles to another victory."

"Aren't we cute?" The varsity cheerleaders take time out to smile for the camera, during the homecoming game against Polk.

"Struttin' his stuff, Stacy Murray shows us just how much Eagle Spirit he's got."

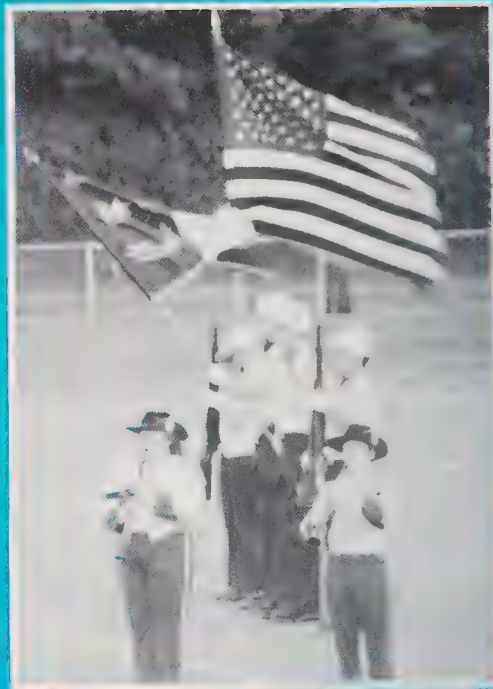

"Spirit Week this year at East Henderson High School was definitely a week to remember! This is a week that allows students and faculty to be a little crazy and show off their eagle pride, spirit, and class. This year, that is exactly what everyone did!

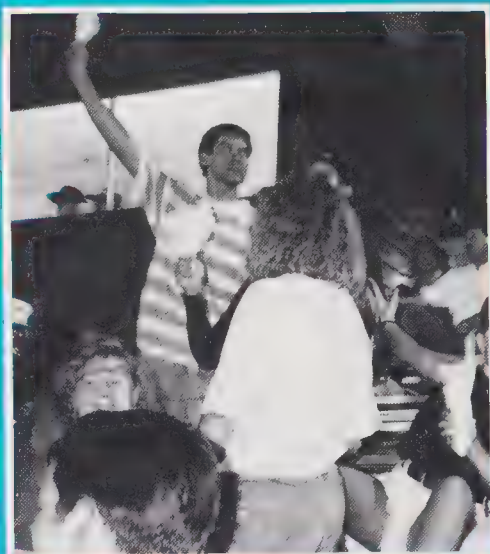

Spirit Week officially started on Monday, October 11th. We began with Celebrity Day. Lots of the students dressed up as their favorite movie star or musician. Students and faculty wore their craziest socks and wildest ties on "sock and tie" day, which was held on Tuesday. Wednesday afternoon there was an assembly to encourage everyone to come out for the annual powderpuff game and the bonfire. This was a big success and everybody had a great time. Thursday was "Twin Day", where students dressed up as someone else at the school.

Finally, the day everyone had been waiting for came — Friday. On this day students wore their green and white to show off their "Eagle Class". Friday afternoon the homecoming parade was held followed by the big homecoming pep rally. This pep rally was held to support our varsity football team in their battle to beat Polk, and to see the homecoming court once more before voting on the 1993 East Henderson High School Queen.

Spirit Week '93 at East High was definitely one to remember, and it just went to show this year was our "Year of Class".

Marvina Strickland, Kami Collins, and April Nichols take time out to smile and wave to the camera.

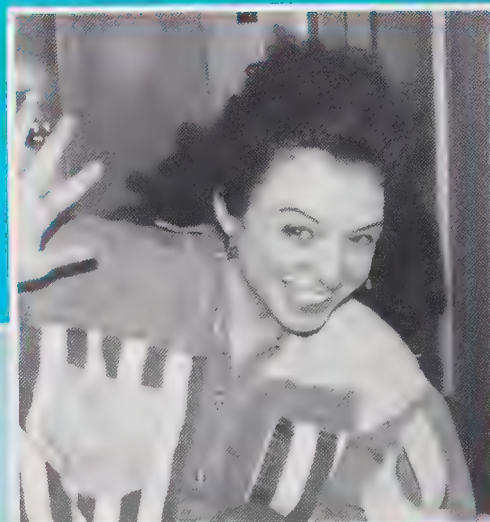

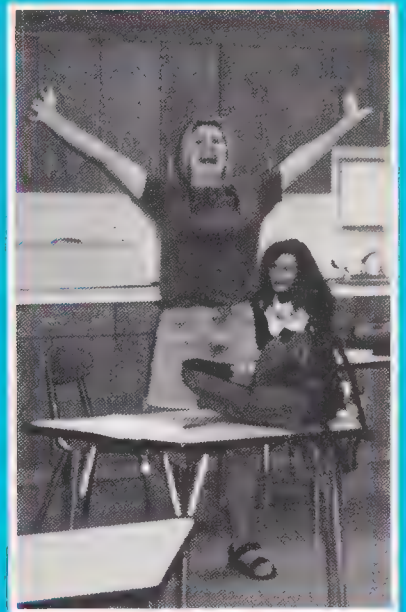

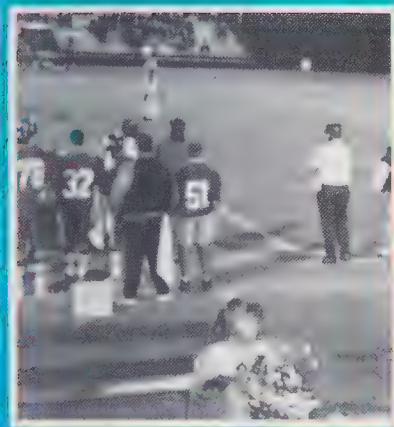

During Spirit Week, Jay Sandos, David Sigmon, and Michael Jones show their flexibility. These guys make up our new "masculine" cheerleading squad.

"Peek-a-Boo" exclaims Jay Sandos as he covers up David Olson's face.

"Please, please take my picture!" Amy Jackson, one of our Varsity cheerleaders, surprises the camera as she jumps out in front of it once again.

People show spirit in many ways. It can be in football, cheerleading, or just flashing a smile, and East Henderson High School does it with class.

WEEKENDS

Made For Fun!

Weekends were made for good times and good people. East High students managed to survive the week because they knew Friday night was always ever so close. Most students spent their time on the precious weekends trying to live it up. Whether they went cruising on Main Street or out to eat at Applebees, our students made the most of all that free time each Saturday and Sunday. Said senior Chris Nodurft "Even working on weekends is better than school during the week!" So, whether working or playing, students enjoyed each weekend out of school.

Bright and early on a Saturday morning the Adventure P.E. class prepares for their tiring rock climb.

As the Eagles prepare to score a touchdown, the majority of the student body is there to cheer them on.

When explaining the over-night camp out they told the students, "You will have to depend on nature for everything." Sara Lynch and Jerred Duncan now know they meant EVERYTHING.

Spending some of his hard earned money, Chris Pompey leaves Belk's to finish up his Saturday shopping spree.

Taking a long intellectual stroll through Walden's Book Store, Andrea Jackson pauses for a moment to check out the latest bizarre stories in the Enquirer.

It's nothing unusual to see Christina Guidos at Camelot giving change. Counting money was just one of the few skills we had to acquire when we joined the working class.

All Work And No Play?

THE WORKING CLASS

By joining the working class we often wonder if it truly is all work and no play. Students are busy with homework, reports, and projects — plus trying to make payments. Joining the work force adds responsibility and skills to our lives that will help us in future plans. Work and school sometimes result in giving up free time in front of the T.V. and also giving up those fun activities we usually participate in. But, all in all, dedicated students working for extra money out weighs free time.

"Welcome aboard," said John Morgan as he prepares for the long afternoon journey. Bringing students to and from school is a big job, but someone has to do it.

"Jobs are not always boring," says Marvin Strickland as she flashes a big smile, "they can be fun!"

I scream, you scream, we all scream for ice cream is often echoed at Pro's when Angela Mason is on the job.

Helping a fellow employee, Jamie Netherton?

HOLD ON TO THE NIGHT

The 1993 prom was held at the Deerpark in Biltmore Estates. The theme was "Hold on to the Night." Gentlemen picked up their dates and went out to eat. Upon their arrival at Deerpark, couples had their pictures taken and moved on to the dance floor. Music was soft and spirits were high as couples danced under the stars. It was definitely a night to remember!

Nikki, Angela, Amy, and Kathy Charity Parker and her friends take a break from dancing. Socializing was a big part of the evening.

Donna Leslie looked on with excitement in her eyes.

Are you having a good time Debbie Griggs?

Bachelors wait on ladies to ask for the first dance.

Scott Summey and Maria Austin danced the night away!

"Yes, I'm having a wonderful time," says Dollie Beddingfield.

Andy Kennedy and Nikki Condrey stop and pose for the camera. Many couples attended the prom.

Amy Smith, Suzanne DeKeiser, and Nicole Glisson watch as Juniors and Seniors danced the night away. These three were the Sophomore class officers.

Larry Phillips is having a good time at the prom. Larry was the Junior Class President.

TRANSPORTATION

Late We Arrive — Early We Leave

The first day of the 93-94 school year was definitely a wild experience for everyone. We were all used to coming in and going straight to our parking places without any problems. This year was the direct opposite. There are lines of cars coming to school, and lines of cars leaving school. Juniors and Sophomores park in our newly paved parking lot, and Seniors have assigned places in the Senior parking lot. Freshmen are not allowed to drive due to their age and limited amount of parking spaces. Most come to school in cars or trucks, but some ride the bus, and, do not forget, some even walk to school. School started this year at 8:00, because of our tight seven period schedule. This made it difficult to get to school on time. By the time the bell rings at 3:05 students are ready to leave. So, many times it is true to say "late we arrive and early we leave."

Melony Tabor looks excited to leave after a hard day at school. By the time school is out everyone is ready to leave.

Cain Murray is in a big hurry to get out of the junior parking lot. Most students hurry out of the parking lots in order to get to the store and back in time for practice.

Anthony Byers wants to make sure nobody messes with his pride and joy. Don't worry Anthony, we don't think anyone will get it there.

Kelly Pace, Cory Hoots and Niki Jeter are so happy to be leaving school early to go sell ads. Getting out early is just one of the special privileges of being on the school newspaper.

We all get to school in different vehicles. This sure is a unique way Robbie Dotson gets to school.

"All right, it's straight home for me," says David King. To be able to go straight home from school was at times a bigger thrill than imaginable.

Look at those wheels! With the majority of Juniors just getting their licenses this past year, like Josh Hill, they took pride in their vehicles.

GRADUATION

To graduate or not to graduate was definitely not the question to be asked of the class of '93. Excelling in academics, sports, and music this group of seniors graduated with pride while the Junior Marshals looked on with great expectation for the upcoming year.

Dollie Beddingfield and Nikki Condrey seem pleased that it's finally almost over. These two juniors led the graduating seniors to their final and most important event in high school.

Stacy Harris walked down the stage happily exposing her pearly whites. Graduation was a big day for the seniors receiving their diplomas.

"Just one more year" thinks John Godehn. High school was a joy, but the time to move on had finally arrived.

The saying "Friends Forever" proved to be true for April Stepp, Beth Barnwell, Michelle Capell, and Ruth Park. Not even graduation could end the friendship that these four shared.

Friends often group together around the lunch table. Good food and good friends make lunch an enjoyable part of the day.

With so many new faces, some students have to eat in the lobby.

Amber Nelson picks at her food carefully. Our lunchroom ladies try to provide variety and nutrition every day.

FOOD FOR THE BRAIN

By lunchtime every student is ready for a break. Whether taking time to eat or visit with friends, students look forward to mid-day as an escape from the books. With two choices in the regular lunch line and a fast food line in the lobby, our lunchroom ladies make sure that good food is everywhere for students and teachers to enjoy.

Lunchtime is not only a time to fill an empty stomach but it is also a chance to catch up on all the gossip. Misty Hyder looks like she just got the scoop.

HOMECOMING

This years homecoming court was most unique. Our 1993 court was the first since the 1971 court to have all four high school grades involved. The changing over of the junior high to the middle school put freshmen right up there along with the rest of the high school students.

All of the ladies, with their escorts beside them, waited with sweaty palms anxious to find out if they would be in the final spotlight of the evening. One by one all of the nominees were introduced. Jennifer Duncan was called out as the freshman representative, then Jamie Caudle as the sophomore representative, next Lori Camp as the junior representative, and Sally Williamson as the senior representative. Last of all, the drum-roll begins, fingers cross, "Our new 1993 Homecoming Queen is Jamie Claire Glisson." The crowd went wild! Once all of the congratulations were over with and Jamie took her ride around the track, homecoming was still not over, because the fun had just begun. Our football team managed to make the 1993 Homecoming even more special by winning over Polk County 26-22. Homecoming week ended with a dance that kept festivities strong until midnight.

All Different Kinds Of Class

The East High campus has a variety of people and personalities that make our school a very interesting place to attend. The school is fortunate to have a diverse student body that allows for many different ideas and opinions. Students all try and work together for a better school and a better community. From the 14-year old freshman to the 18-year old senior, students respect each other and strive for a peaceful campus. Teachers and administration also continually support students because student success is top priority. The people here at East High make this school the classiest place in the county.

"I really like East, it's a big change from Flat Rock, but all of the added privileges are really nice." — Brent Beddingfield, Sophomore

Amy Nix, Jennifer Pruitt, and April Nichols take in some sun during lunch. Lunchtime sunbathing is not uncommon at East during the warmer months.

Whoever thought the class of '94 would make it in one piece? This year's seniors have a "wild" reputation that has been carried on with them since junior high. Exactly how much of this reputation is true, remains to be seen!

One of the smallest classes graduating in years, no one can say we weren't unique. With such a diverse group of people in taste, talent, and character, there were never dull moments.

Congratulations Class of 1994 — We made it!!! May you never forget your high school years at East Henderson.

JUNIORS IN A Class OF OUR OWN!

What a way to start off the year driving to school, arriving before 8:00 a.m., seven classes, and FRESHMEN! Although there have been several changes made at East the Juniors have retained their energy and school spirit. As Scott Rodman put it, "A class no one will soon forget." Being a junior is all about having fun, showing your spirit, being yourself, getting along with everyone, and we can't forget about making the grade. When Michael Broadway was asked what he liked about being a Junior he said, "The exuberant sensation of being in the upperclass clan without the pressures of college hunting (and it is easy to yell at peprallies!)."

Junior Class officers, Candice Voigt, President, Christina Guidos, and Lori Camp contributed energy and spirit to the junior class.

The library computers are often confusing for many students, but Justin Flores, Matt Peace, and Ricky Reynolds have finally mastered the art.

Emily Harbin flashes a smile, while helping Tony Leslie with some homework. Juniors are always happy to help underclassmen.

"Do What?" says Darby Medlin, when faced with a difficult Chemistry problem. Even though we all got a little confused, we somehow managed to find the answers.

Do you see any men in this picture? Bobby Styles, Jeff Jones, Michael Jones, Mitchell Corn, and T.J. Ballard may beg to differ with you.

What are the key elements to an explosive Chemistry class? Ricky Foor, Scott Rodman, and Stewart Wes seem to know them.

Jay Sandox and David Sigmon are all wrapped up in showing their school spirit; while Jennifer Rhodes and Nicole Glisson get a good laugh. Participating in pep rally activities was a big part of being a spirited junior.

Friends are a big part of making it through high school. Candice Voigt, Cynthia Cox, and Kim Stepp bring new meaning to a (close) friendship.

Jerred Duncan carried a sign of peace and happiness with him. Wherever he would go you could find peace and happiness.

THE WINNING CLASS

The sophomore class of 1994 is definitely a class that is noticed at East Henderson High School. Even though the sophomores had many changes to make and situations to get used to, they were not the youngest this year, like sophomores were in years past. The sophomores were very thankful for this. Switched from junior high to high school is very exciting and stressful at the same time. Many changes take place, such as a new environment, new teachers, new friends, more homework, and FREEDOM! Throughout all those changes the sophomore class still did very well and earned the title of "The Winning Class."

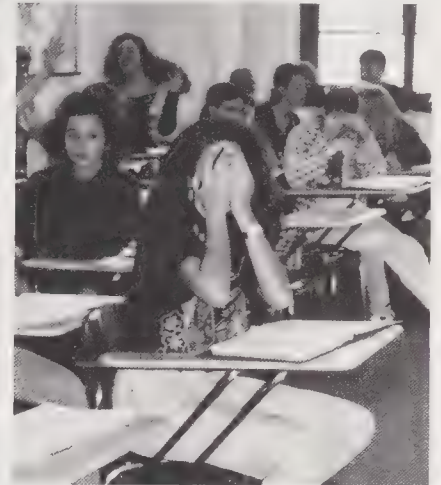

Outside during his Physical Education class, Eric Galloway practices his throwing skills for football. Eric was one of the star players on the J.V. football team.

During the homecoming festivities, Keri Simpson runs frantically around Travis Pressley and Eric Voigt, wrapping them with toilet paper.

During one of the school's many pep rallies, a group of sophomore guys support their school. All sophomores enjoyed the time outside of class to spend with friends.

"Please do not take my picture!", exclaims Tina Huff as soon as she realizes the camera is pointed towards her.

Outside after school, Beth Justus and Stacy Murray talk about the days activities.

During a Friday night football game, Erica Dalton and Heather Petit talk to their friends.

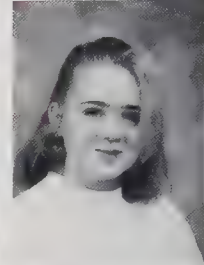

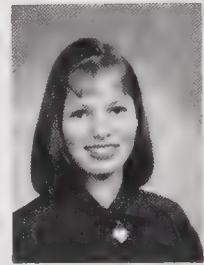

Latissa Robinson came all the way from Boston this year to join East Henderson High School as a sophomore. Here she is sitting outside of the office on her first day getting checked in.

This was the first time in a long time that freshmen were at East. We had some problems finding our way around for the first couple of days but we survived. The freshmen class at the high school this year added a lot of changes for both the upperclassmen as well as the freshman. Getting adjusted was not easy, but the freshmen managed to do it with the greatest of ease.

Carey Beaver always enjoyed keyboarding. For most students, it was easy.

Melanie and a friend smile at the camera on the way back to class one day.

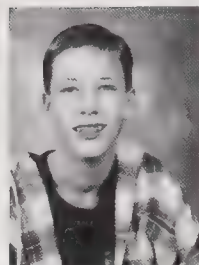

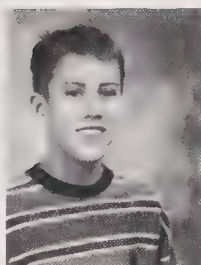

Sabrina McCraw finishes up a science assignment during Health class.

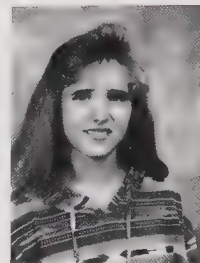

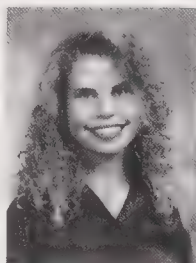

Some students spent quite a lot of hours sitting outside the office.

OUR SPECIAL FRIENDS

We Are Fortunate To Know Them

Chillin' in her wheelchair, Sonya thinks yeah, "I'm Cool!"

For the second year at East Henderson we have "Our Special Friends", Mark, Sonya, Thomas, and Kenny. They are under the guidance of their hard working and dedicated teachers, Mrs. Kristie Ogletree and her aide, Mrs. Cheryl Searcy. They are visited by physical, occupational, play, and speech therapists in the county that check their progress and work with them on a limited time-table. Many students at East have gotten to meet the multi-handicapped class, and enjoy working with them. This class is an important part of East Henderson, and we are all fortunate to have "Our Special Friends".

When the day gets to long for Mark, he takes a nap. Don't you wish you were a special kid?

Thomas, Sonya, Kenny, and Mark hang out in their favorite place on campus, the Senior Circle.

Sonya laughs because she has the most toys. Yes, women rule!!

Ride anyone? "I don't think so," says Sonya, but Thomas is all smiles.

Kenny says cheese, as he smiles at the camera.

The Working Class

Faculty And Administration

Who is the woman behind the power? Dr. Hudgins, our assistant principal, "assists" Mr. Mullins in making East Henderson a better school for the students.

Mr. McDowell, our other assistant principal, is constantly busy helping out Mr. Mullins. He is always bustling to keep the school in order.

What a guy! Mr. Mullins, our principal, is responsible for the everyday life at East High. His job is not an easy one, but he does it with class.

The faculty and administration of East Henderson is the backbone of our school. They are responsible for the education we receive in our high school years. The teachers are supportive in the present, while preparing students for the future. They help us to strive for excellence in what we do today, as well as when we graduate and go into the real world. That special teacher who helped you grasp Algebra, or who was there for you to rely on in a tough situation will always hold a sacred place in your heart.

This year not only brought a new freshman class, but it also brought to campus several new teachers. All new faculty came to school with enthusiasm and excitement as they looked forward to the new year. With the great administration and faculty here at East Henderson, our school shines with class.

During the Homecoming assembly, Mr. Brumbaugh surprises the student body by getting arrested. One of his students saw his picture on "America's Most Wanted" and turned him in.

"Hi ho, Silver, away!" yells Mr. Thompson. These were his famous last words as he left East Henderson High School.

Just put on a happy face! Ms. McCall shows that even teachers get excited over Fridays.

Ms. Frye and Mr. Paige, both Business teachers, take a break from their classes. The two are sharing a laugh over a student's question, "Is a chip the same as a byte?"

In one of her more relaxed moments, Dr. Hudgins takes a break from all the dancing she has been doing at the Prom. Most of the students do not get to see this side of our assistant principal.

NCAA STATE COACH OF THE YEAR

Coach Wayne Morgan

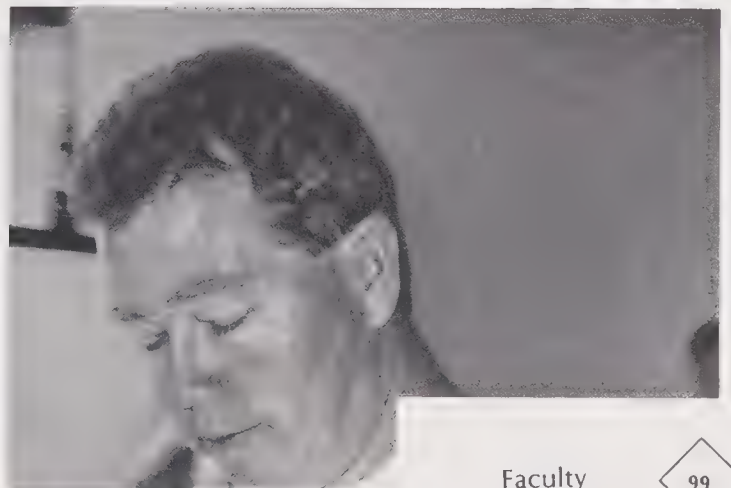

This year, the assistant football coach and a physical education teacher for EHHS, Wayne Morgan, received two very prestigious awards for his accomplishments. He received the teacher of the year award at EHHS for 1993 and then went on to receive the NCAHPERD/NCAA State Coach of the year award.

There is no question why Coach Morgan has received these awards because he has definitely earned them. He is a graduate of Mars Hill where he received a BS in Health and Physical Education. Coach Morgan has been both a teacher and coach for twenty-one years. In those twenty-one years, Coach Morgan has been everything from a Biology teacher to an Athletic Director.

With all of those qualities, Coach Morgan is a wonderful teacher. One reason for this is his great outlook on his job, "Teaching and coaching are one and the same. To be successful in either you must be consistent, fair, and disciplined. Your students learn from you by what you are, not what you say you are. Only when your students grasp the concept of where they are going will they be able to figure out how to get there." This good outlook and perspective on teaching and coaching, has earned Coach Morgan many awards over the years. He has been nominated for the Teacher of the year award at EHHS, as well as being a nominee for two North Carolina Center of Advancement of Teachers. Then this year, he received the NCAHEPD/NCAA State Coach of the Year award.

All of the students and faculty at EHHS are very proud of Coach Wayne Morgan. We all feel very honored to know such a great guy.

Class Action

Athletics play a major part in the life of East Henderson High School. Forty percent of EHHS students participate in sports. Each sport requires hardwork and dedication. Many hours are spent on courts and fields to perfect winning moves and plays. Fall sports include cross country, football, soccer, cheerleading, and volleyball. In the winter there is basketball, wrestling, cheerleading, and swimming. Finally, in the spring time, there is softball, baseball, track, tennis, and golf. When students participate in sports, it is difficult to excel in sports as well as in academics, but to make the cut you have to make the grade.

This year’s Varsity football team came into the season with a slow start, but went out with a bang. With an overall record of 5 and 5, and being second in the Apple Country Conference, these guys really gave their all.

For the third straight year, a spot in the playoffs came down to the last game of the regular season against West Henderson. Once again, Eagle spirit took us to the playoffs. Way to go Big Green!!!

The Junior Varsity football player came to East in early August not knowing what to expect. The two to three hour practices were more than any of them were used to. These players soon found that no matter what the score, being a part of East Henderson’s football program is something to be proud of. The young men definitely have potential and next year promises to be an exciting season.

THE SPORT WITH CLASS

J.V. And Varsity Cheerleading

Amy Limbaugh, a Junior Varsity cheerleader, stands at attention while cheering the football team to a victory on one of the many Thursday night football games.

Over the course of this year, the cheerleaders participated in a lot of activities in the school to promote spirit. Here, the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders show their spirit while riding on their float during the Homecoming Parade.

Before the big football game against Hendersonville, the Varsity Cheerleaders cheer their team to victory.

April Nichols, Marvinna Strickland, and Kami Collins, the three seniors of the Varsity Cheerleading team, cheer to the crowd during a Friday night football game at home.

All the hard work this year has really paid off for the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders. Led by Jennifer Smith, captain, and Ashley Hornsby, co-captain, the squad strived for excellence in their performance while keeping the team's spirit up. From camp in June to the end of basketball season in March, cheerleading is the longest running sport. But throughout all the tough practices and grueling competition, the J.V. Cheerleaders always had time to smile and show their Eagle Spirit! The squad was coached by Wendy Wiseman.

The Varsity Cheerleaders had a lot to cheer about this year. It was their job to raise the school spirit of the team and student body. The squad, led by Kami Collins, captain; and April Nichols, co-captain, worked hard throughout the season to pep everyone up. Their effort was evident at the display of Eagle support in pep rallies and games. The Varsity Cheerleading coach was Wendy Frye.

The front row gets ready for the ball to come back over. The key to success is being prepared.

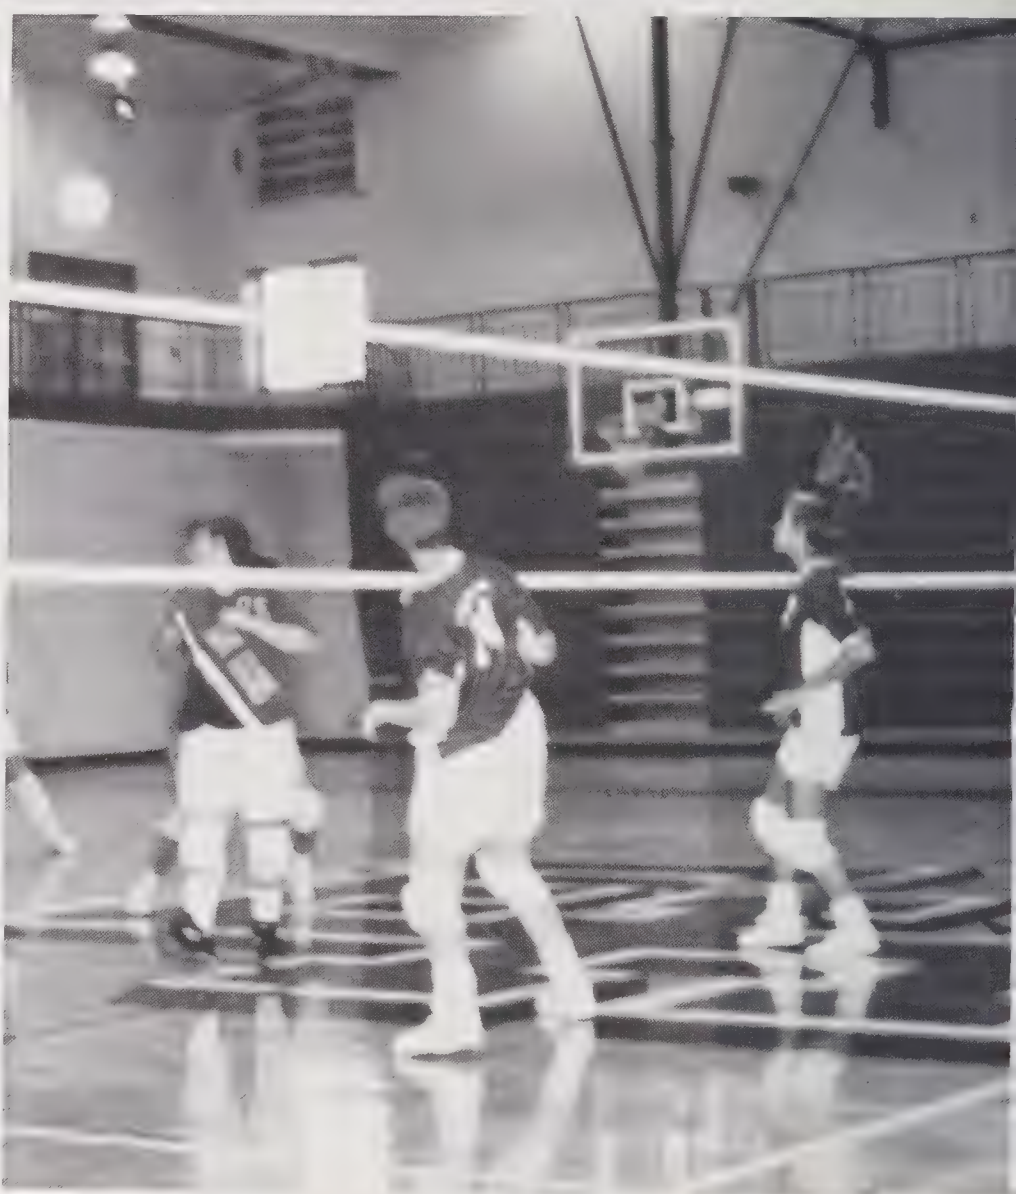

Marci Cooper serves the ball for another crucial point for the J.V. team. The team worked diligently during practice on their serves.

After Brandy Nelson serves, she and Allison Ford get down on defense. Always being ready is the name of the game.

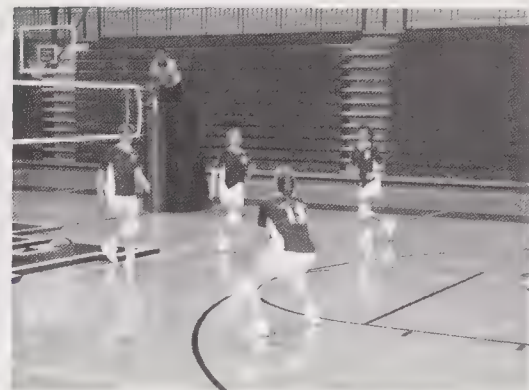

When the Lady Eagles hosted the West Falcons, the entire game turned out to be a hair raising experience.

Stacey Linhart is set and ready to pass the ball to her setter. Being ready makes the difference in a good pass.

The 1993 Junior Varsity team was definitely a big hit. The Lady Eagles were under the leadership of coach Kristi "The General" Kremer. Their teamwork and aggressive playing led them to a successful 9-7 record.

The young J.V. team consisted of sophomores Brandy Nelson, Marci Cooper, Megan McGraw, Felicia Marshall, Stacey Linhart, Amy McCall and Ragan Huggins. The only freshmen were Allison Ford and Christy Linhart. Each one of these ladies showed hard work and dedication. We are all expecting great things out of these Lady Eagles next season.

Ragan Huggins passes the ball so Megan McGraw can set it up. Working together can make a team.

Heidi Cagle hits the ball down on an opponent, while Lori Camp gets down and ready for the ball to come back over. Don't ever assume that the ball is not going to come back over the net.

Lori Camp gets up to hit the ball. Making the perfect hit takes the right contact at the right time.

Concentrate Heidi. Heidi was a powerful server on the team. We could always count on Heidi to give the other team a hard serve when we needed it.

Jamie Glisson passes the ball as Kathy McCrary makes sure it isn't coming to her. Playing on the back row takes a lot of teamwork because you really don't know until the last second who the ball is going to.

Darby Medlin serves the ball for another point. You have to get your serves in to win the game.

This year was Kristi Kremer's third year as the Lady Eagle's volleyball coach. The team included her "first" graduating players. She has coached them since they were sophomores. The team was made up of 5 Seniors, 6 Juniors, and 3 Sophomores. Senior team members Jamie Glisson, Andi Hollingsworth, Kathy McGrary, Stephanie Peterson, and Michelle Ring showed their Senior leadership throughout the season. The Junior players included, Heidi Cagle, Lori Camp, Darby Medlin, Jennifer Rhodes, Jackie Robinson, and Sara Rose and Sophomores Marci Cooper, Megan McGraw, and Keri Simpson. These players along with J.V. team members will have a variety of athletic ability next season. The Varsity team finished with a season record of 7-14. The team had many close matches. The Seniors final home game at East was a victorious match. Beating Hendersonville in 5 games was a great way to end the season. Seniors were honored with a rose and volleyball charm presented by the underclassman team members. All in all the 93-94 volleyball season was a success.

During pre game warm-ups everyone gets ready for the jobs that have to be accomplished. Warm-ups are for getting your mind on the games and not for goofing off.

CROSS COUNTRY

Team members: L to R: kneeling: Jimmie Phillips, Glen Gilbert, standing: Julie Hill, Mandy Schuler, Clarendra Bradley, Erika Ashley, Beth Justus, Candice Voigt, and Coach Dick King.

The 1993 Cross Country team had a successful season. Seniors Julie Hill and Glen Gilbert and Sophomore Jimmie Phillips were captains. Glen, in his first year running, finished 17th in our conference while Jimmie, a two-year letterman, finished 9th in the conference and 34th at the regional competition. The girls, although small in numbers, received a tremendous amount of contribution from members — Beth Justus, Candice Voigt, Clarendra Bradley, Erika Ashley, and Mandy Schuler.

At the start of the East Henderson Invitational our girls team is making their move. Clarendra Bradley, leading the pack, finished 6th overall.

Erika Ashley looks a little tired. For the individual runners these races are a real test of physical and mental stamina.

Beth Justus runs toward the finish line in the Wendy's Invitational meet. Beth always displayed good form as she strove to be the best.

Candice Voigt shows grim determination as she runs for a top finish. Candice spent many hours practicing for the season.

To get ready for races, Glen Gilbert runs daily. At meets Glen always tried to do his best.

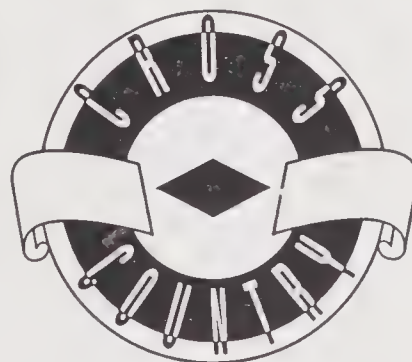

Mandy Schuler leads the pack for the Lady Eagles. Following her closely are runners Julie Hill and Beth Justus.

Glen Gilbert and Jimmie Phillips show us that after meets is a time for relaxation. Cross Country meets could be very stressful.

Jimmie Phillips struts his stuff as he races toward a top finish in the East Henderson Invitational. He was able to hold his own at seventeenth place.

BASEBALL

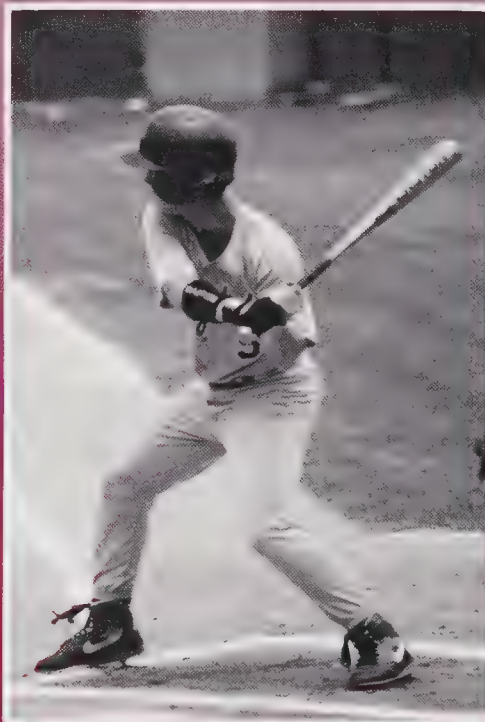

Junior Styles heads back to the dugout after batting. He also made up a new sport that he likes to call "Baseball Bowling."

The 1992-1993 baseball team was coached by Dean Jones and Charlie Cagle. The baseball team played 23 games and their record was 15-9.

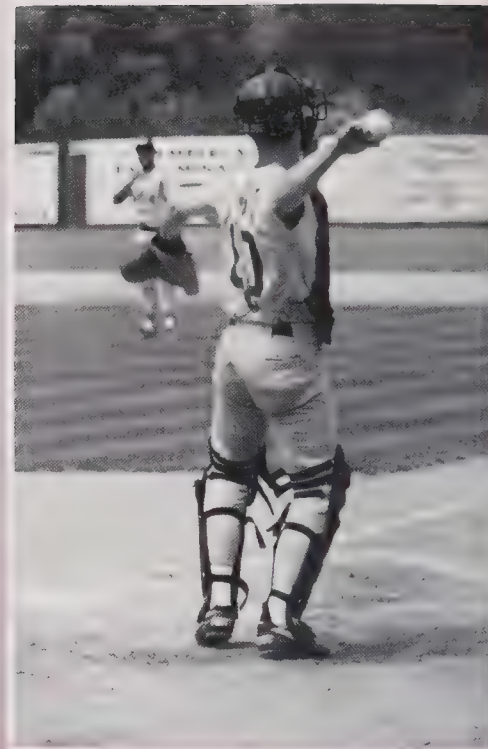

The team had many outstanding players. Joey Rhodes led the team with the highest RBI and ERA. Joey was also a great pitcher. Leading the team in the highest steals was Travis Pressley. Sean Ward had the highest batting average this year. Jeremy Hill and Todd Anders did an excellent job on the defensive end. Todd Anders, Junior Styles and Joey Rhodes also made it to the all-conference game.

Coach Jones described the season as starting out slow this year. "There were times that it would have been easy for us to quit or have a let-down. We didn't do that. Instead we chose to pick it up and have little pride. We beat the defending state champs twice and made it to the second round of the state play-offs."

This year our team is losing five seniors: Todd Anders, Kevin Drake, Jeremy Hill, Matt Olson, and Joey Rhodes. Each player contributed much to the team in their own ways. It is a great loss to let these seniors go. We know that next year's team will be just as good as this year's.

Brandon Scott enjoyed batting. Brandon plays in the out field

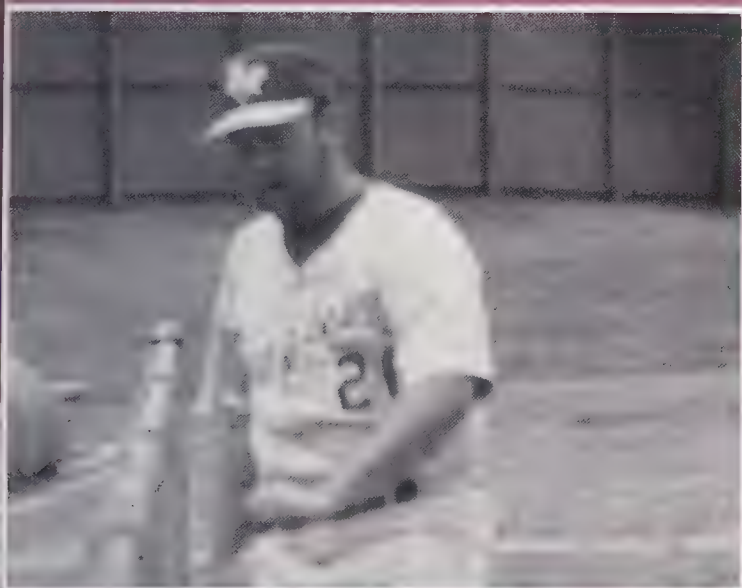

Shawn Gibbs warms up by throwing to Jeremy Hill. Both were great players!

Coach Jones heads back to the dugout to get the team's spirit up. Our team usually had much spirit.

Junior Styles says, "Coach says that I get to ride in the front seat on the way home!" Our team liked to joke around.

SWIM TEAM

MAKIN' A SPLASH

The 1993-94 swim season took off with a big splash! Favorable changes were made by the new swim coach, Bill Keel. Conditioning and weight lifting were added to the strenuous practices at the YMCA. The swimmers would eventually be able to swim at quicker paces and for longer lengths of time. Rewards such as water polo, are given for achievements and accomplishments of the team throughout the season. Achievements could be anything from increased speed to a victorious swim meet. Jennifer Pruitt comments that, "the team has a lot of potential due to the new additions this year. I feel like it will be a very productive season and I am looking forward to it!" Swimming is not as easy as many students think. The team conditions three times a week for an hour and swims at the YMCA four times a week in preparation for intense meets that are held once to twice a week at either TC Roberson High School or the YMCA. Swimming requires both determination and discipline. When we asked Coach Keel how he felt about coaching a different team he replied, "I look forward to working with a new team this year. We have a good number of experienced swimmers returning, mixed with new talent. This combination will prove to be a successful team. Motivation and determination are definitely on our side." Looks like the swim team is ready to make this season a BIG SPLASH!

Scott Palmer, Rachel Hills, and Grady McGraw wait patiently for their chance to improve their flip turn. Flip turns are a very crucial aspect of each swimming event.

Dustin Gosnell, practicing the breast stroke, comes up for a breath, and wonders if he will be able to make it to the edge of the pool.

Ashley Forté puts forth her best effort and shows good form while performing her favorite stroke.

There's no stopping David Olson, now! But, will this dive result in a belly flop?

Hallie West is caught in action. She always speeds through the water like a streak of lightning!

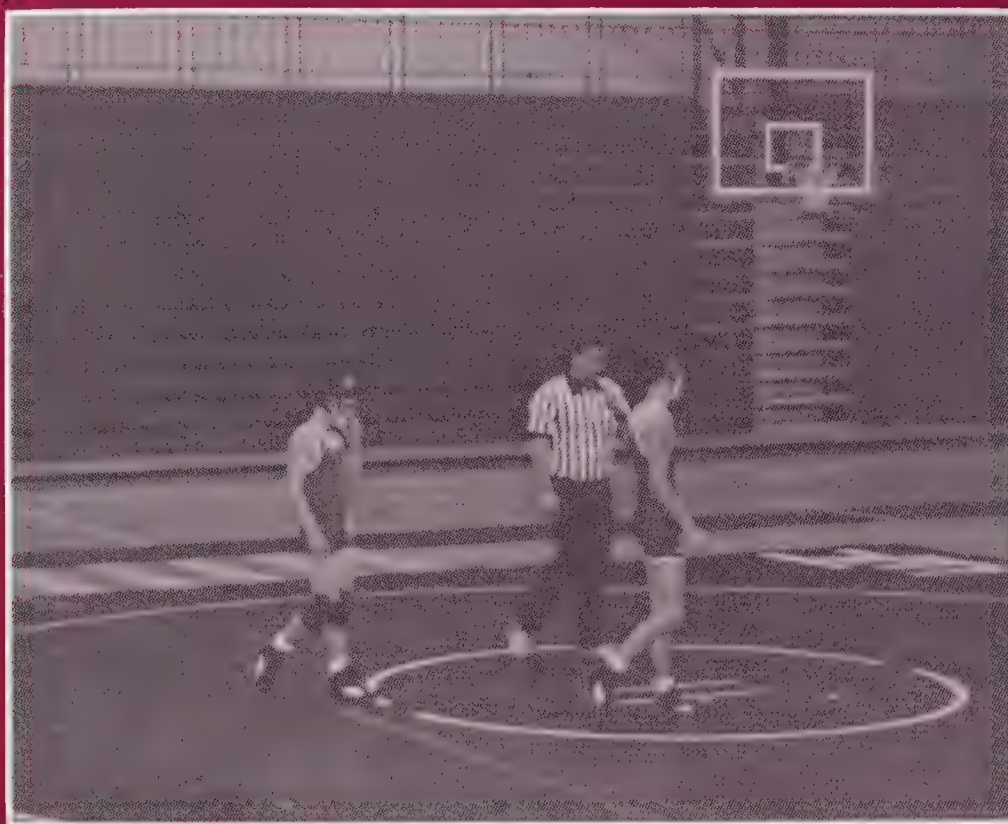

Krystyn Cunningham asks her teammates if they think it would be fun to throw Coach Keel into the pool. Darby Medlin and Suzanna DeKeizer think it's an excellent idea!

WRESTLING

The wrestlers pay close attention to the match. Watching is one of the best ways to learn.

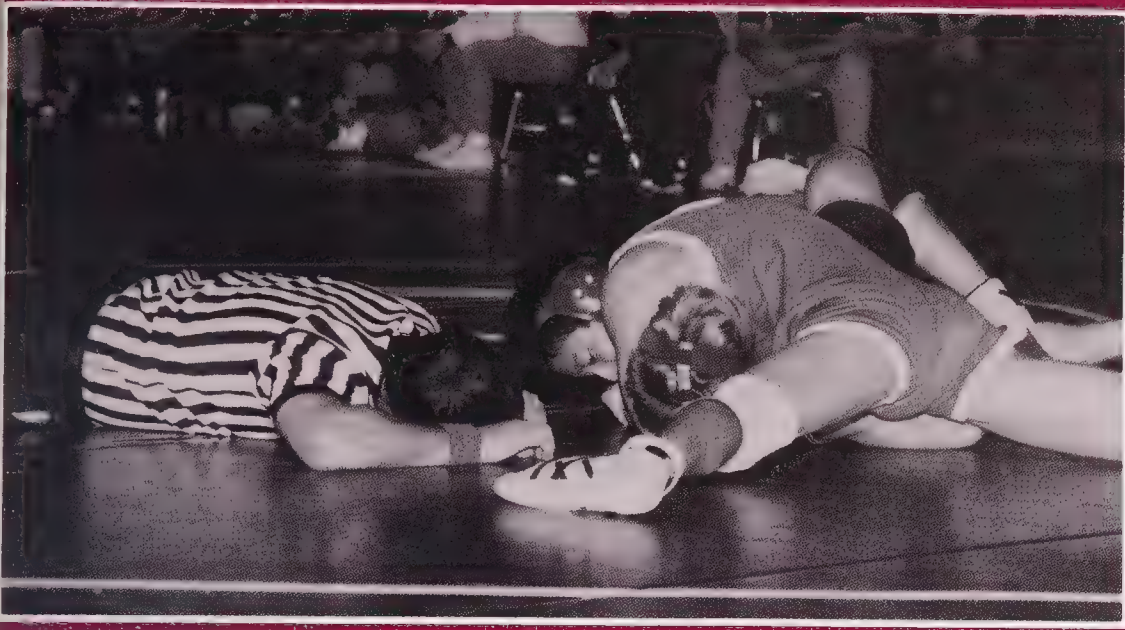

Wrestlers take the mat, preparing for a competitive match, each hoping for a victory.

War Eagles take it to the mat! As with all sports at East this year, the addition of freshmen to the team brought a lot of changes. More wrestlers means more competition. War eagle wrestlers have always made East proud as they have this year. Although some may refer to wrestling as an individual sport, the War Eagles believe in teamwork all the way. This belief will allow them to be very successful.

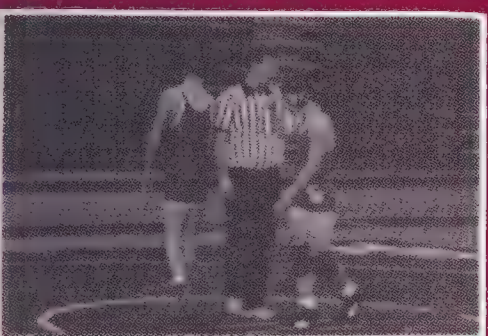

Craig Summey, one of the senior wrestlers, helps Michael Patterson, a freshmen, warm up before his match. Seniority is important to these guys.

MEN'S VARSITY BASKETBALL

The 1993-94 Varsity basketball team had three returning starters: Seniors Marc Helton and Chris Pompey, and Junior Brandon Scott.

Team members were excited about playing in the new Apple Country Conference.

The basketball players have quite a long season with games beginning in November and play-offs finishing the season in early March. This year our classy Men's basketball team excelled both on and off the court as they strove to be the best.

The anxious crowd waits as Marc Helton's foul shot makes its way to the basket.

Junior, Brandon Scott, one of our second year starters, struts his stuff down the court.

Why the down look guys? The game hasn't even started!

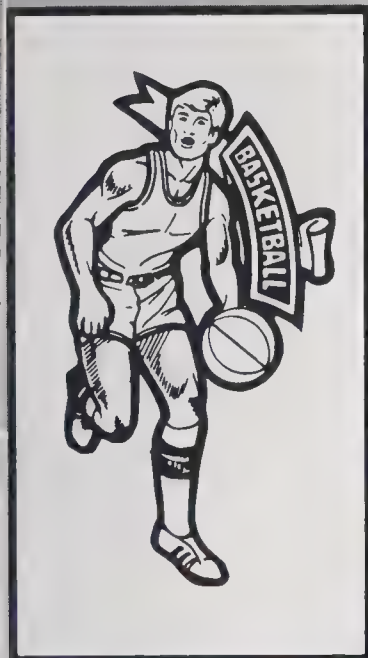

Brandon Scott makes sure that he follows through with his foul shot. SWISH — it's in!!

On their way to victory, Eagles score another two points against Brevard. Go team Go!

Leap, Bobby, Leap! Our 6'8" center goes for the ball in the tip off.

Rebounding the basketball, Marc Helton shows everyone just how it is done.

Chris Pompey and Marc Helton fight for inside rebounding positions. Our guys really get it done.

VARSITY GIRLS BASKETBALL

The 1993-1994 varsity girls basketball team has had a year of learning experience. Two players returned from last year. They were Michelle Ring and Heidi Cagle. The newcomers had the majority. Though they lacked experience, the team excelled in determination and the desire to win. Coach Kristi Kremer completed her second year as varsity coach and third year at East Henderson.

Team members huddle around Coach Kremer to hear their instructions.

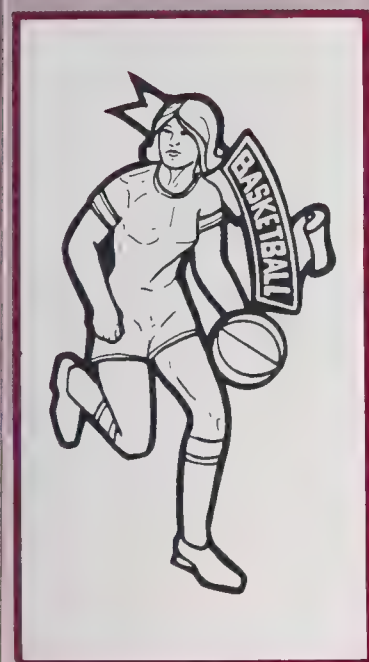

Teammates watch to see if the ball sinks.

Eagles fight for inside positions.

Amy Rose is glad to get a break from the game.

Jackie runs in for the rebound.

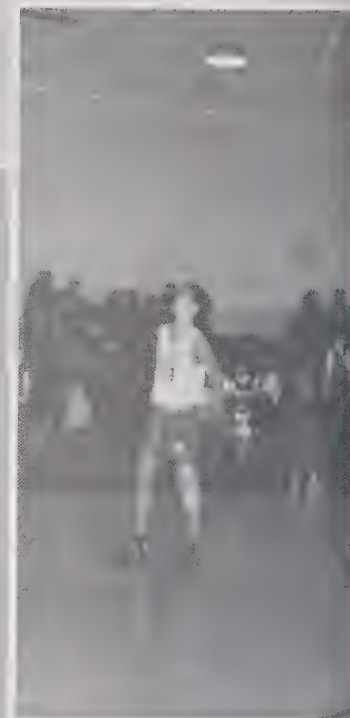

MEN'S J.V. BASKETBALL

The jayvee basketball players looked great this season. Most of them knew each other's skills from playing experiences in the past. This helped the team's performance.

The team consisted of nine sophomores and seven freshmen. Staring scorers included Matt "Goose" Atkins, Chad Morgan, Jimmy Phillips, and Travis Pressley.

The J.V. players had as much enthusiasm for the 93-94 playing season as they did talent. All of these guys practiced hard to have a winning season.

Matt "Goose" Atkins goes up for two points, while Johan Sjoberg and Michael Nalley stand by for the rebound.

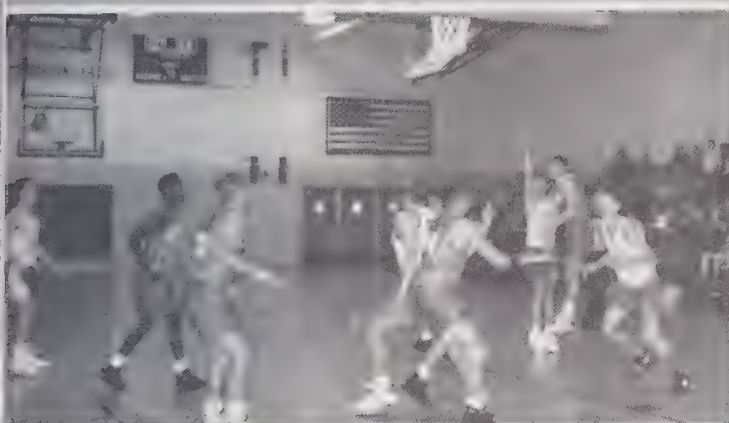

What goes up, must come down
It's only natural to wait and see if it goes in.

"Keep up the good work, guys," shouts Travis Pressley to his teammates. A word of encouragement is always appreciated.

As Chad Morgan shoots, Matt Atkins goes in as back up and Michael Nalley is on guard.

Michael Nalley runs to the goal to give a lending hand to whoever may need it. Our guys were terrific when it came to team work.

Johan Sjoberg catches his balance after shooting the ball, while his teammates wait for the rebound.

When the time out was called, Johan Sjoberg took a few seconds to think about the game plan.

Going for yet another two points, Matt Atkins was well on his way to a successful season.

J.V. GIRLS BASKETBALL

The j.v. girls basketball team had a good year. Coach Doug Justice completed his second year of coaching at East. Although they were young and didn't have much experience, Justice had this to say about them, "They are a group of talented girls, they just lack game experience." You know these girls had to be dedicated to spend two hours on the court five days a week.

Megan McGraw, Amy McCall, Tisha Pace, and Jessica Sinex are happy to be on the team.

Megan shoots over her opponent.

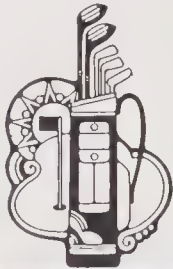

Ernesta attempts to throw over a Brevard player.

Mindy gives the ball to Ernesta at the point.

GOLF

The 1992-93 Eagle Golf team had a season of success under the guidance of Ms. Jones. Ms. Jones helped the team identify and work on the areas that needed the most attention such as putting, chipping, and driving. Practicing everyday except on Fridays at either Crooked Creek or Kenmure is what helped the two key players, Dustin Gosnell and Tim Clinkscales, lead the team. Craig Summey, Chance Huntley and Jimmy Justice rounded out the top five players. This team of five went on to regionals at Chase High School and finished seventh out of eighteen teams. Tim Clinkscales had the top score out of the five member team. With Five players returning, the golf team expects more success in the upcoming golf season.

Tim Clinkscales practices his chipping skills. Chipping was a necessity for getting on the green.

Ms. Jones dedication to coaching the golf team made the year a success. Ms. Jones is hoping for another successful year.

Dustin Gosnell practices key golf shots. Daily practices gave the team an edge at golf meets.

“The golf machine helps perfect your swing for the upcoming golf season.” — Dustin Gosnell

“Golf is a game of concentration.” — Bo Metcalf

“Golf is a game of strategy.” — Tim Clinkscales

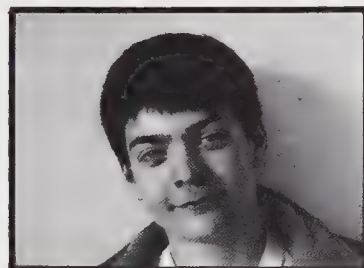

“We have a lot of talent and should do well.” — Craig Summey

“Golf is a game that takes skill and dedication to be good.” — Carl Taylor

“Golf takes time and practice to be good” — Jonathan Jackson

Women's Track And Field Taking The Heat

During the state track meet the 3200 meter relay team and coaches take a break. The state meet was held at UNC Chapel Hill.

The 1993 women's track team was full of talent. Stephanie Peterson, Beth Barnwell and Jennifer Russell went to state. The 3200 meter relay team also went to state. They consisted of Tammie Skipper, Amanda Justus, Veronica Morgan, and Erica Ashley. Others competed in the regional meet. Coach Morgan and Coach Sherill coached the members to victory. They worked very hard to go as far as they did and their hard work paid off.

Krystyn Cunningham races toward the finish line. Races are always exciting when runner round the last turn.

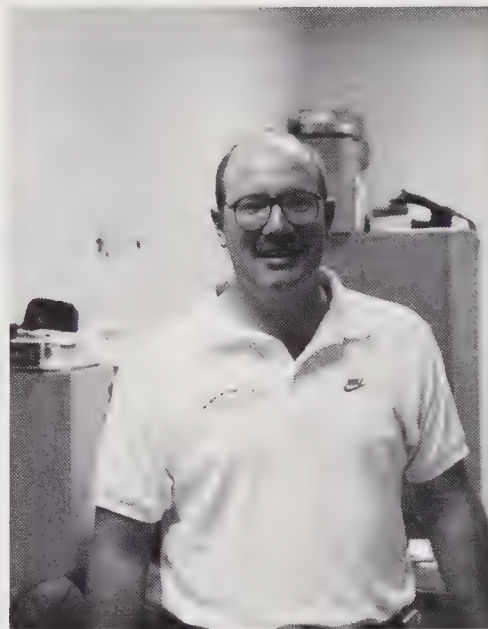

At the conference meet Erica Ashely hands off to Tammie Skipper. Correct hand offs were important to all relay teams.

Soccer

Just Kick It

Soccer is a sport of skill, endurance, and concentration. The 1993 EHHS Soccer Team proved to have all these key elements. With lots of new talent and hard work the soccer team rose above the rest to prevail with a 10-6-2 season. They made it to the play-offs at Salisbury where they placed second. When asked what he thought of the season, David Olson said, "It was a lot of fun. We had a lot of hard workers on the team, I am looking forward to next season."

HIT-N-RUN

Softball

East Henderson's 1993 softball team was by far one of East's best in a long time. They not only finished first in 3A conference, tied for first in 3A/4A conference, but made it to the quarter finals of the state play-offs. No matter how good of a chance they had at beating their next opponents everyone was always there for practice bettering their weaknesses and mastering their strengths.

By no means did luck get this team to the play-offs, but rather, it was their awesome physical and mental abilities. They practiced on improving their physical strengths but spent an equal amount of time on making each game as flawless as possible. Every athlete knows in order to play your best you have to give 100% in physical capability, but you also have to give 110% in mental ability for that makes the perfect game whether you win or lose. When asked her opinion on the season Billie Maybin said, "We had good times and we had some bad times, but it ended up an awesome season. I hope the next two years are as great as this one."

With no problem at all, Billie Maybin pitches a perfect strike. Billie proved herself to be one of the best pitchers in the conference.

"I want you to get down, get dirty, and play some ball!" exclaims Coach Cannon. It didn't take much to get this group pumped.

Coaches: Mike Goover, Barry Cannon, And Jimmy (Ernie) Stepp.

Catch this Crystal! As any ball player would know catching the ball is the easy thing to do, it's what you have to do once you've got it that takes some thinking.

Men's Track And Field

Going The Distance

Michael Jones prepares for an intense practice by taking a quick jog around the field. Warming up is a very important part of any sport.

The 1993 men's track team was a small team compared to previous years. Best overall performers on the team were Jimmy Kleiner, John Skipper, Milland Bradley and Donnie Lambert. Both Milland Bradley and Donnie Lambert went to State Competition. Donnie was the most consistent performer on the team this year. At one point in the season Donnie had the highest high jump in the state. Milland really came on strong during the season. He was the most improved track star. He was 3rd in the region in the 800 meter with a time of 2:02.4. Phillip Miller and Joe Murphy had a good season in hurdles. The both consecutively scored points. Overall the team had a good season.

Requiring great amounts of strength Adam Henderson prepares to throw the discus. Concentration is the key to a good throw.

Putting the spin on John Skipper excels in a track meet.

Tennis . . . We "Love" The Game.

The 1993 tennis season was a very prosperous one, with a finishing record of 6-5 and a 4th place finish in the conference. The season started strong with six returning and five new players. The team used the facilities at Jackson Park, Blue Ridge Community College, and Park Ridge Hospital for practices and matches. The conference match was held at Jackson Park and Oak Hills Racquet Club. Graduating seniors Doug Wallace, Brad Alverson, and Donnie Lambert and juniors Hansen Pederson, Schuyler McKay, and Paul Thomas all competed in the conference and regional matches. Sophomore David Olson also competed in the conference match. With the expectation of eight returning and several new players, the 1994 season should be stronger than ever. The coach of the tennis team is Terry Saltz.

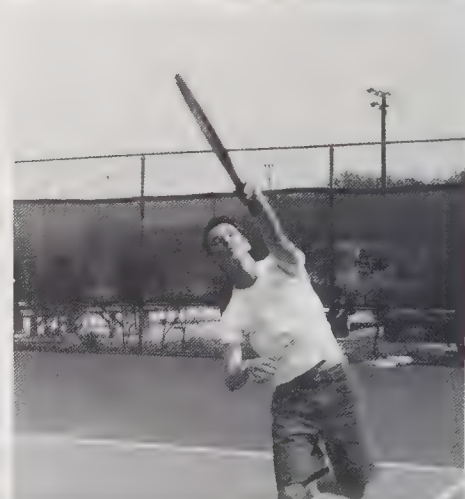

Sitting: David Olson, Jay Sandos, Hansen Pederson. Standing: Chris Coggins, Schuyler McKay, Carrie Shaffer. Not Pictured: Jason Pace, Paul Thomas.

It looks as if Hansen's forehand might pay-off as he jumps to meet the ball. Hansen played forth seat for the team this year.

David Olson hits an easy lob to outwit his opponent. Tennis is a sport that often takes more concentration and skill, than strength.

Paul shows great form as he stretches to make the play. Although a new member of the team, Paul shows his talent and ability to be a strong player.

Schuyler's intense look shows great concentration as he backhand's the ball across the court. Schuyler often uses placement of the ball to defeat many of his opponents.

Millard, you look a little wrapped up in yourself!

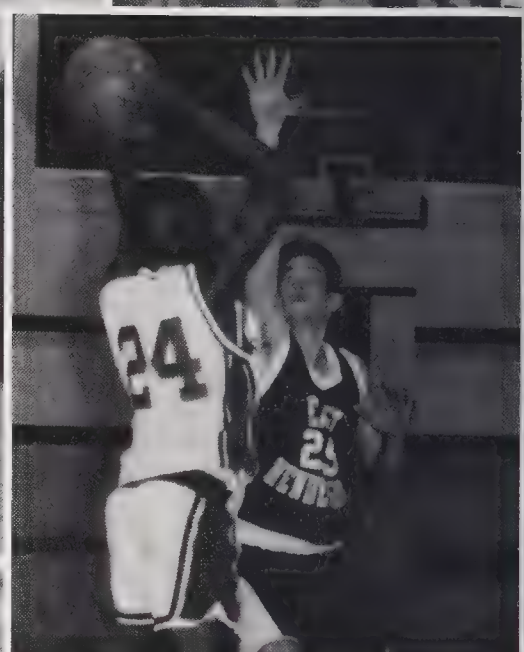

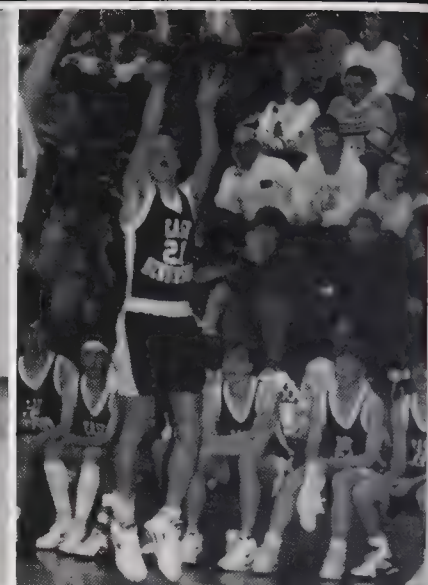

What have you done to Maria? HOSA won the float contest for being the most creative.

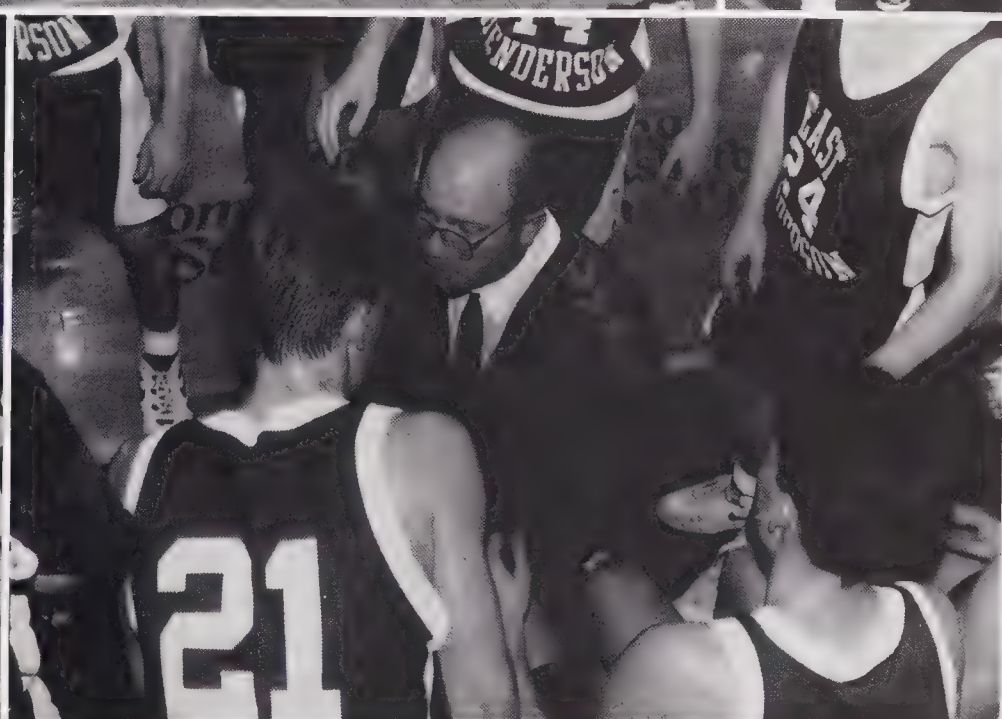

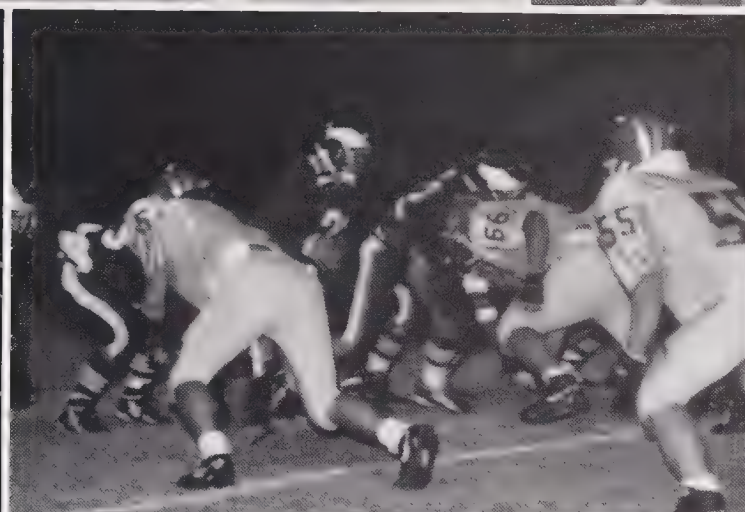

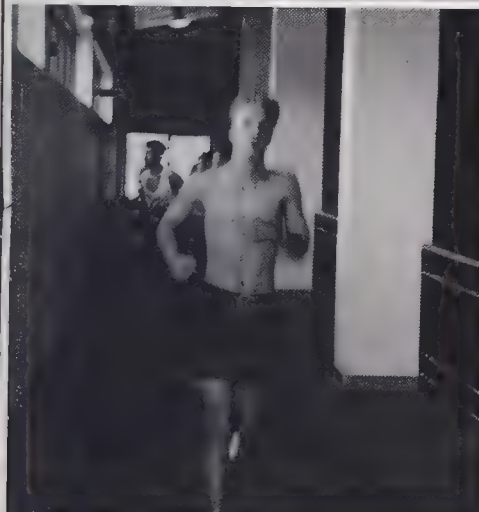

Freddie Bailey sure is having fun. Students like time out of class more than time in class.

Amy McCall holds on to for dear life. Sometimes riding on floats was not as easy as it looked.

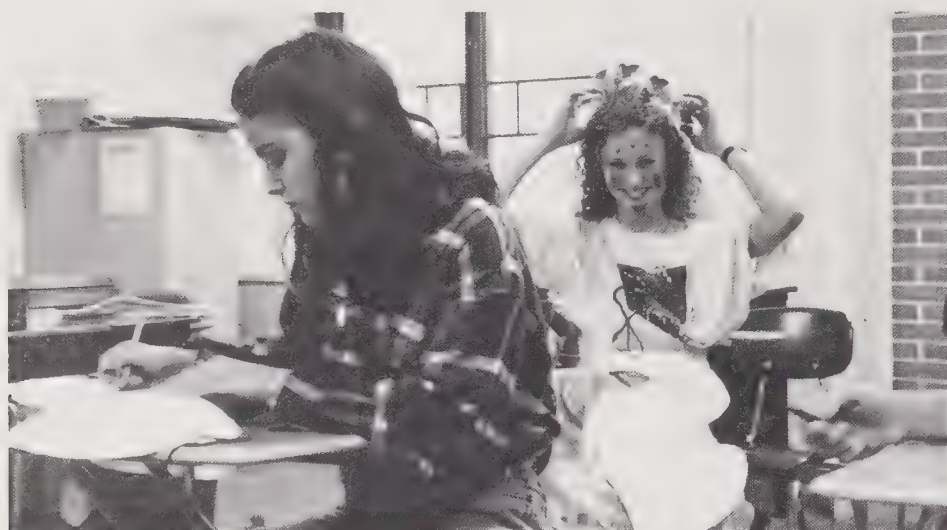

What Are Students Doing After Class?

East Henderson is proud to have a variety of clubs and organizations on campus. Clubs provide opportunities for students to join together to help our school and community. Club work also motivates students to strive to do their very best, whether it involves picking up trash on campus or delivering canned goods to the needy. The wide variety of clubs at East allows for all students to become involved. Teachers take time out of their busy schedules to be sponsors of the different clubs. Most clubs on campus have an "open-door" policy that simply means as long as there is an interest, a student can join. Clubs provide important and necessary services for everyone in our community and East is proud to have the "Classiest" clubs around.

Jimmy Brissie — Senior

“Clubs are very beneficial because they help to benefit the school and community through service projects and the students learn leadership qualities by running the clubs.”

Hallie West — Sophomore

“Extra curricular activities are sometimes a lot of extra hours and work, but a lot of the time they are fun. I enjoy after-school club meetings because I can be with my friends, and I like to be able to get things done.”

INTERACT

Interact, a co-ed club, provides helpful services to our community, school, and those in need. Some of their activities include road clean up, recycling, raking leaves for disabled people, and visiting nursing homes. They also schedule camping trips for fun. Meetings are usually held every other Monday after school, and once a month a night meetings takes place. Interact was established in 1965, and is the oldest Interact Club in Henderson County. Through the years this club has had various sponsors. Margaret Schakel and Vicki Leeds are the current sponsors and they are enjoying their roles as Interact leaders.

HOSA, or Health Occupation Services of America, is a club on campus that encourages and support Health Occupation Education here at East High. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. McClure, this year's club was extremely active. Each Tuesday the club would meet after school to plan upcoming activities. HOSA was not only a great help to the school this year, but they also gave to the community. One of their many projects included going to Pardee Hospital on Halloween and giving out candy to everyone in the Pediatrics Ward. April Jones, one of HOSA's junior members, described the club in this way. "HOSA has given me the opportunity to become better prepared for my career. It has taught me a lot about Health Occupations."

DECA

DECA is an association of marketing education students. The purpose of the East Henderson DECA Chapter is to develop future leaders for marketing, merchandising, and management. Students enrolled in the Marketing Education program are encouraged to join DECA to enhance their classroom instruction and on-the-job training. DECA members are allowed to attend conferences at the district, state, and national level to test their knowledge and skills in marketing and business against other marketing education students.

The 1993-94 DECA Chapter is represented by Marvinna Strickland, who is a district vice-president for district 16. In January members will attend the MCEC at the Biltmore Square Mall to compete for the right to attend the State DECA conference in Raleigh in March.

Mr. Saltz, DECA's sponsor here at East High feels that this year's DECA has accomplished a great deal. Being a club sponsor requires a lot of extra time.

FELLOWSHIP OF CHRISTIAN ATHLETES

Fellowship of Christian Athletes is a club open to any student. The purpose of FCA is to present the challenge and adventure of receiving Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord. This year's FCA club met on Friday mornings. Meetings included singing, an occasional movie or even a guest speaker. FCA brings students together in fellowship and fun while also providing students with ways to deal with frustrations that occur in athletic activities and on school grounds. The club planned many activities for the 93-94 school year. They sold shirts, had a Christmas party and performed various charity events. FCA is a vital part of our school.

A new course, Student Government, was introduced to East this year. The class is made up of all elected class and student body officers. Its purpose is to teach students leadership and also government at local, state, national, and worldwide levels in more detail. An entire class period each day also allows student council to carry out more activities within the school. They were responsible for all activities during Homecoming week. Student council is also responsible for organizing a Scholastic Crime Stoppers chapter at East, the first at a high school level in the state.

The smiles in the picture show that student government is definitely not all work and no play. With such a variety of character it was impossible not to have a good time.

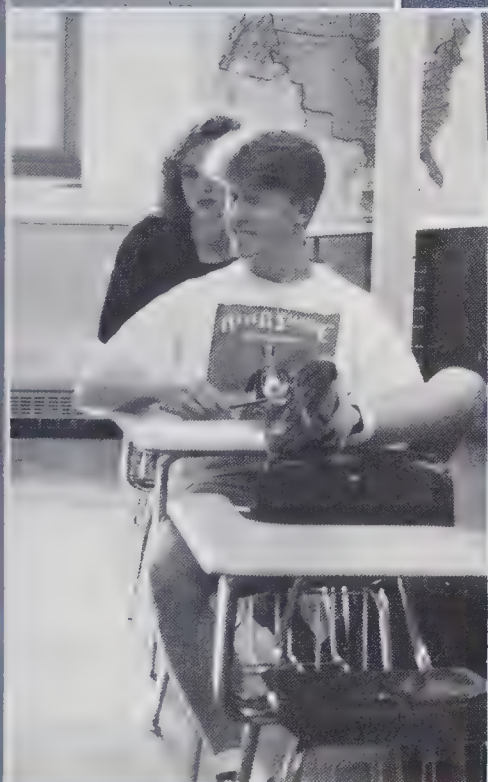

As the year progressed, the members of student government realized the importance of teamwork. Here, the group brainstorms about ideas for Homecoming.

Jamie, Candace, and Christina work diligently. Concentration is required for understanding many governmental issues.

One of the projects student council participated in was the Campus Clean-Up. These girls were assigned the area behind B-building.

David Sigmon and his wonderful sense of humor helped the class get through tense moments. We're not quite sure what he said this time!

Jennifer and Jen keep the student body informed about extracurricular activities. One of our responsibilities was to update the display case weekly.

FHA

Future Homemakers of America is a nationwide club. Members of FHA learn and experience the economic and social aspects of life. They also learn how to adapt to life on their own after graduation. Some of their activities include collecting personal items for MainStay, adopting a Christmas family, Christmas caroling, and state and regional competitions. Their sponsor is Mrs. Harris.

ON STAGE!!!

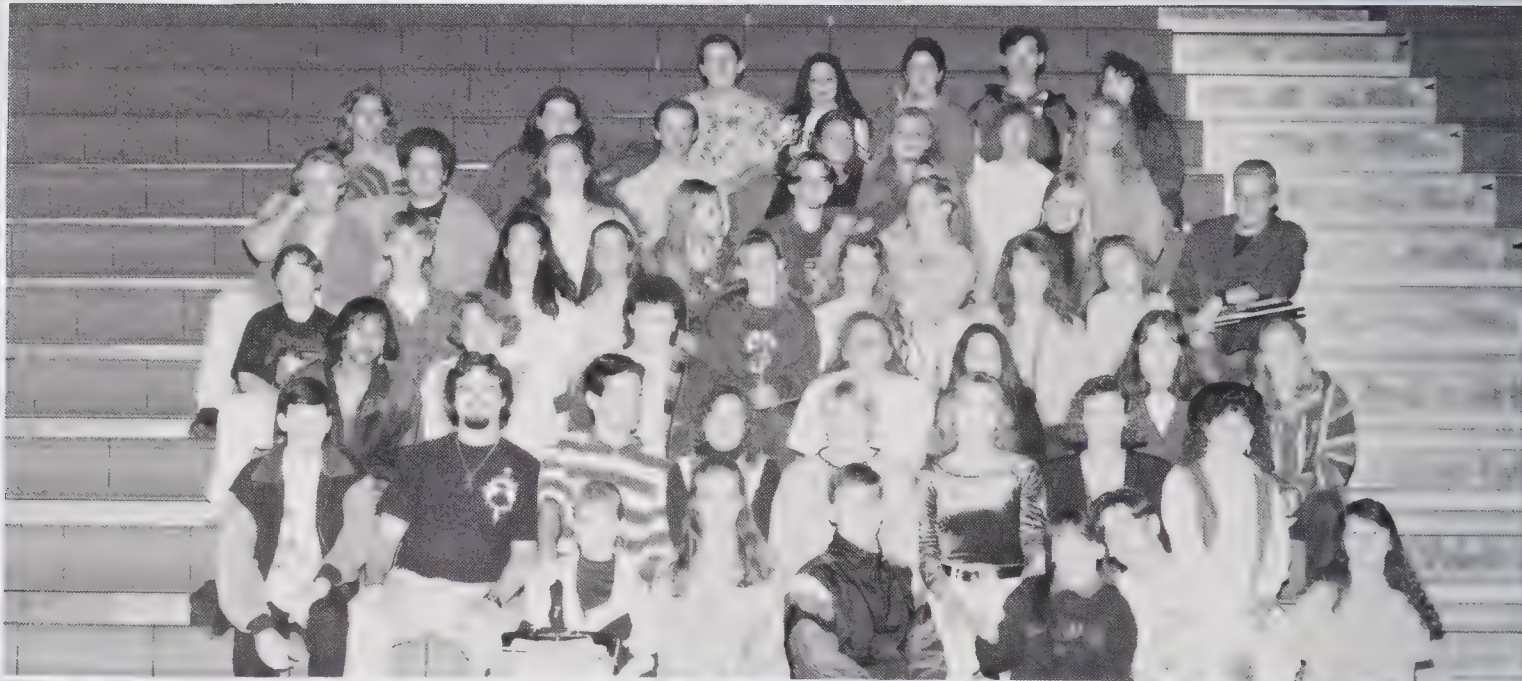

The Drama Club, under the direction of Ms. Stacey participated in numerous events. Some of the events include participating in plays not only for the school, but for the general public as well. Many members put in long hours after school to make props for the play, finding and designing costumes and putting in long hours of rehearsal. At the beginning they could only read the lines, at show time they could recite the lines with ease.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society's induction tea was held on Friday, December 10, 1993. The new members were honored for their high standard of achievements in academic studies and good character. The requirement for being selected into the club were acquiring a 3.5 GPA and maintaining it until graduation. New members were chosen after the second semester of their junior year based on their scholastic record. While tutoring underclassmen and participating in other service projects, the members of the National Honor Society did Mrs. Loftin proud.

AFS

AFS Sponsor — Mrs. Bottjer

The AFS Club is one of unique spirit. AFS encourages students to learn and study other countries as well as cultures. AFS acts as a host to many of the foreign exchange students that attend East each year. They make an effort, to help students and teachers adjust to differences they may encounter during this year. AFS held a number of meetings and special events each year.

VICA

The Vocational and Industrial clubs of America better known as VICA, is sponsored by Mr. Jones. It is a club made up of students in Vocational classes, such as carpentry, drafting etc. The dues go to help pay for competition. Part of the money goes to the main office of VICA and the money left goes to the State. Each Spring the club goes to competition to compete for trophies. In Drafting they see who can draw the best and the fastest. In Carpentry they see what can be built. During the school year VICA does different things that help the school. This year they are working to design trash containers for the school. As you can see even though this is a small club it is a very important part of our school.

FFA

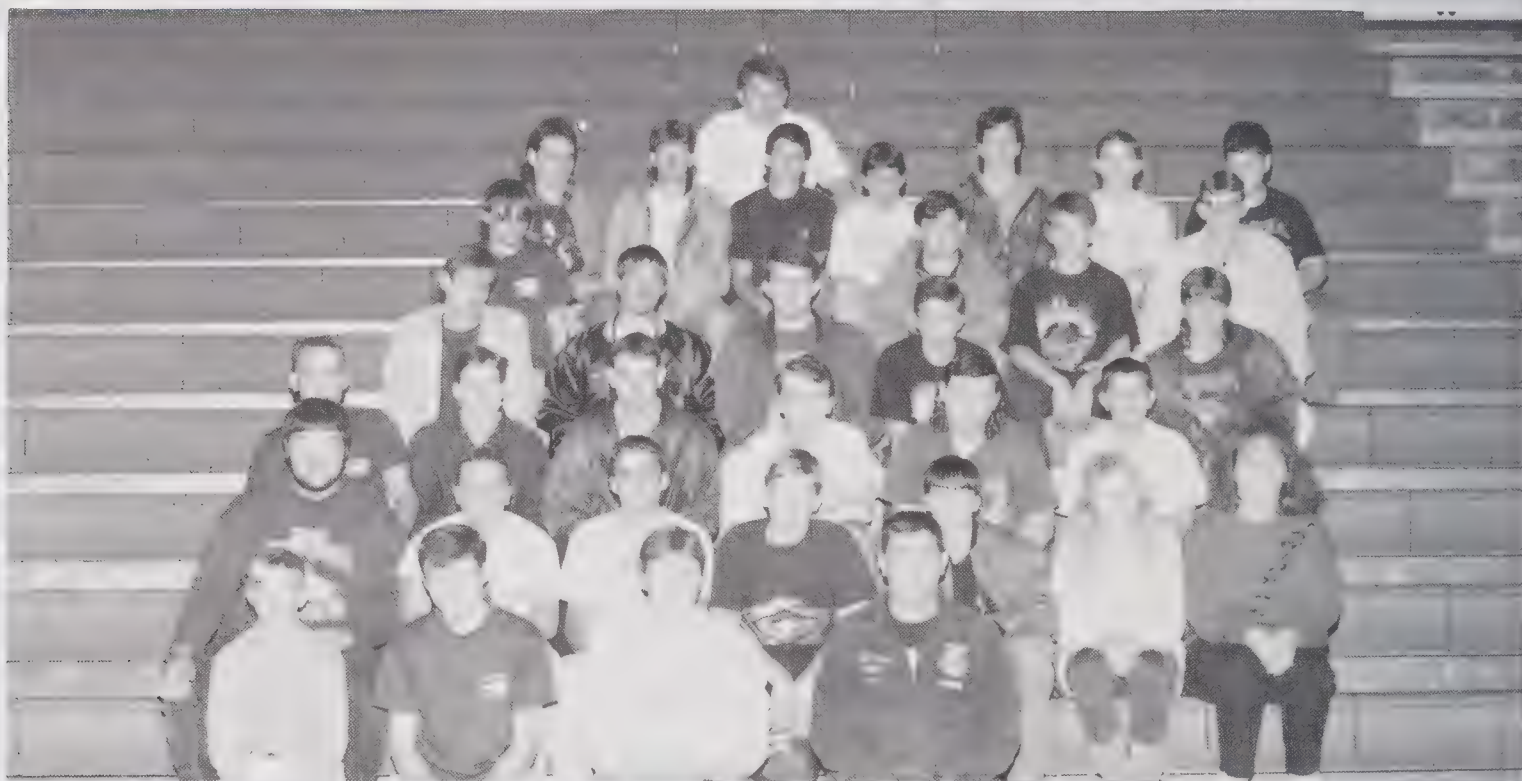

FFA is an organization of the Future Farmers of America. It is open to both males and females enrolled in some type of agriculture class. The FFA sponsor is Mr. Fritz McCall. This club meets the second Tuesday of every month. FFA has played a key role in beautifying the school, by planting shrubs and trees. For fun they participate in a fishing tournament in March and in the spring they go camping. This year at Christmas FFA is sending fruit baskets to nursing homes. FFA is a proud club which builds character and teaches leadership.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club of East Henderson High School engaged itself in a numerous amount of activities throughout the school year. The club was set up by Mr. Brumbaugh and a select few of elite students to promote learning and thinking skills. Field trips were planned to help students experiment with different aspects of science in a fun, safe environment and group discussions were formed to contemplate the topics that were brought up during the experiments. Overall, the Science Club was a beneficial club to East Henderson High School.

"WE MEAN BUSINESS"

Future Business Leaders of America is an organization that focuses on enhancing business skills, such as, accounting, business math, and keyboarding. FBLA members attend leadership conferences in addition to the yearly competitive events that take place each spring. Members work diligently in different skills like how to interview for a job or computer applications because everyone wants to do well at competition — FBLA competes on three different levels: regional, state and national. Last year FBLA came up with a community service project that involved teaching Word Perfect to members of our community. The project was so good, it won first place at the state competition and went on to take tenth place at national competition in Washington, D.C.

SADD — "JOINING TOGETHER TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE."

The SADD club has had a very successful year. With the new president Mickie Pressley, a new sponsor, Mrs. Brown, and two new vice presidents, Milissa Dahle and Jason Washburn, things moved along very well. The club started out the year by winning best club float at the Homecoming Parade, and providing Christmas dinner for a needy family. Many new members joined this year and there was quite a bit of change for the better. The SADD club started what they call "peer counseling," in a group called the Share Circle. The Share Circle met once a week on Thursday. Students could sit in a circle and relieve all of their stress by telling their problems. The response from the circle was great, and it helped many people. Overall, SADD had a wonderful time. Everyone tried their best to live by the motto: "Joining Together To Make A Difference." SADD feels it is very important to touch the lives of others in a positive way.

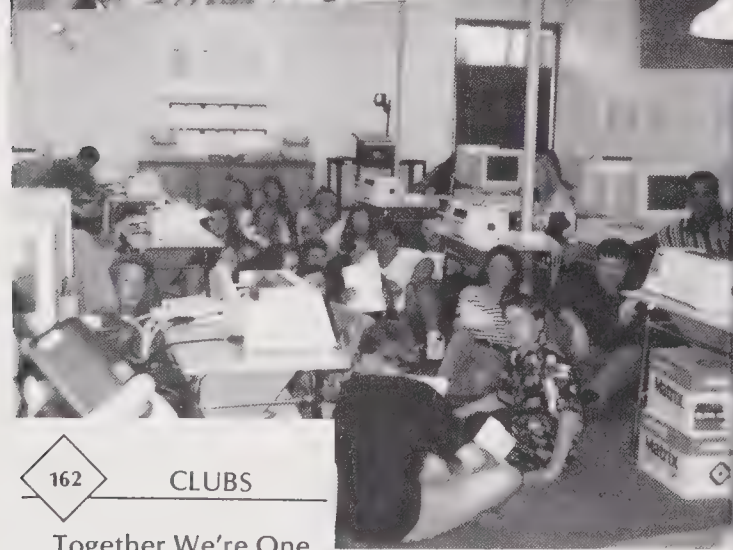

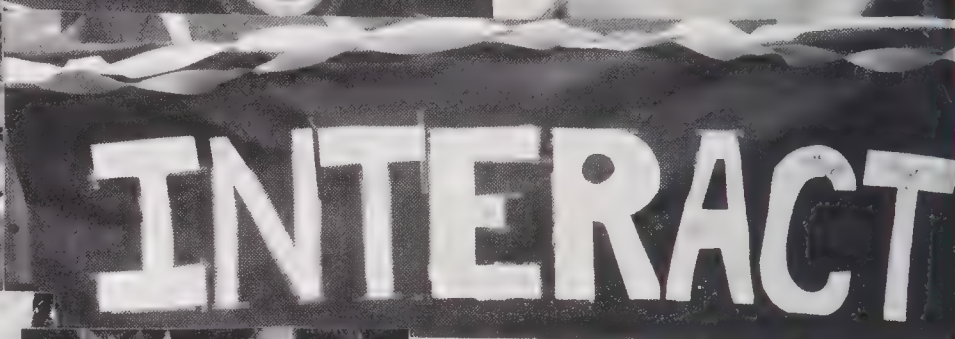

During the Homecoming parade the members of SADD displayed posters of the effects of drinking and driving. The sheriff's department allowed the members to ride on a patrol car to show their support for the club.

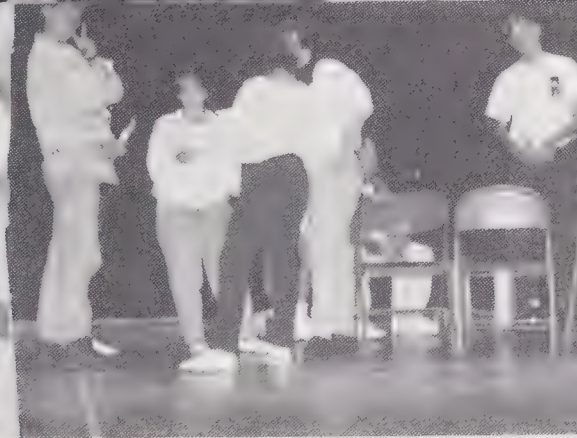

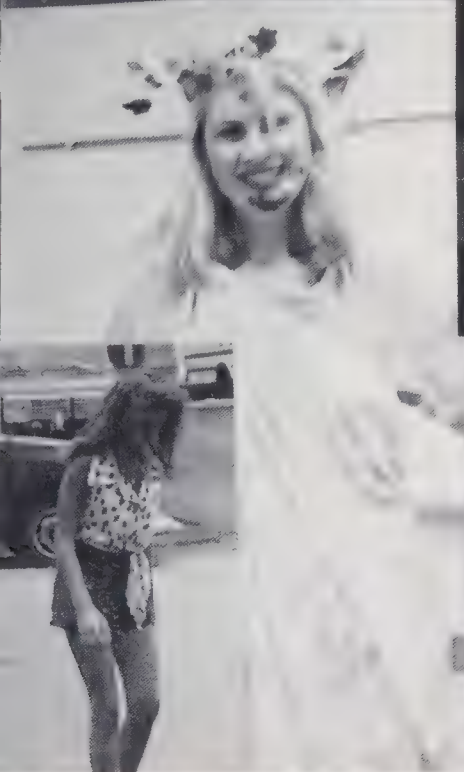

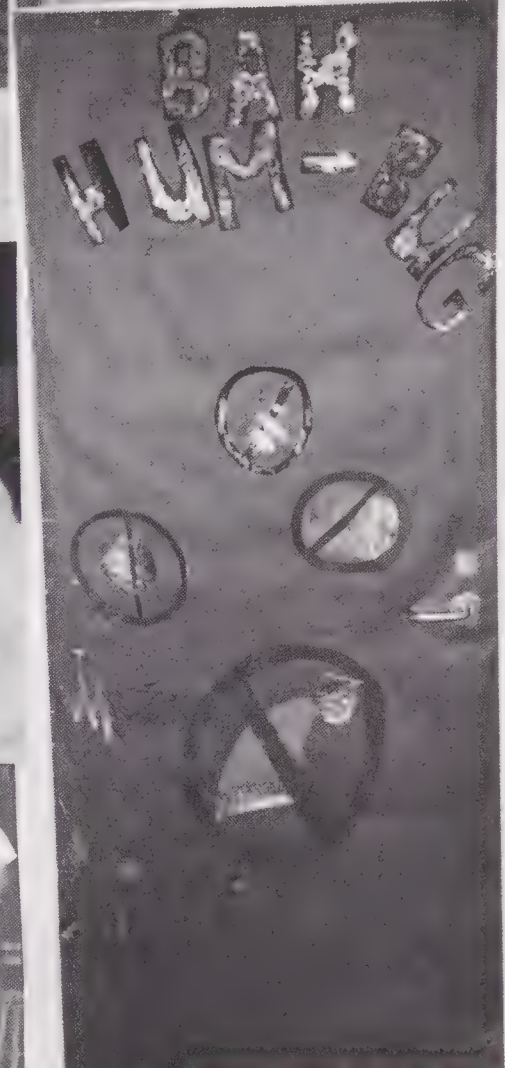

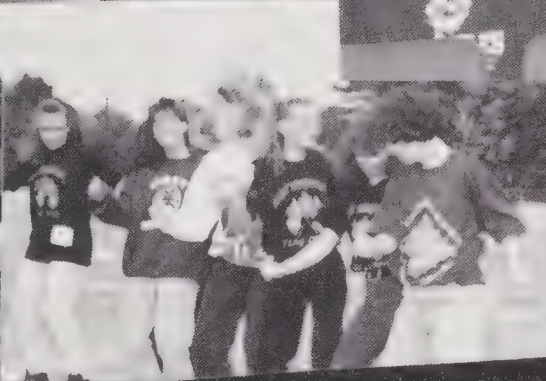

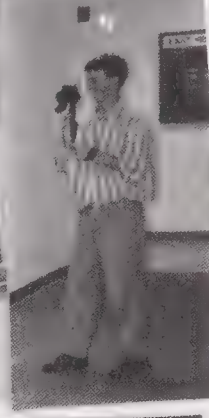

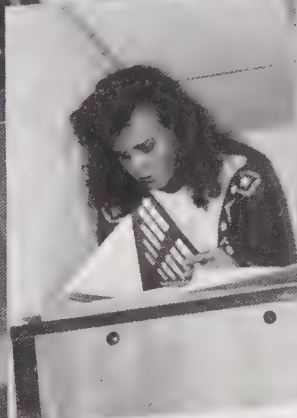

During a seatbelt awareness program, sponsored by SADD, the crash dummy appeared around school. The crash dummy also visited several elementary schools to teach children the importance of wearing seatbelts.

Working For Class

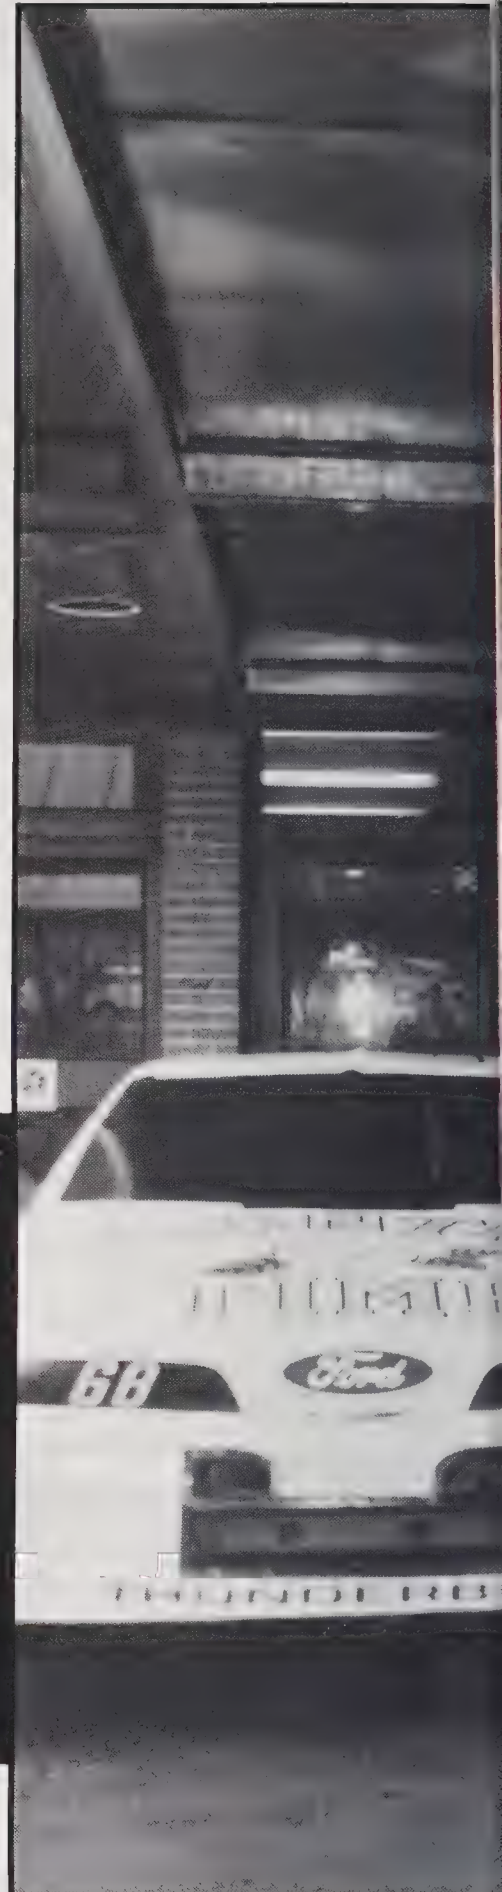

School Activities have always been a vital part of East High. Students who get involved in the many activities East offers often find themselves having plenty of fun. This year East High added something new to the campus — ROTC. Not only does this class let students strive for excellence, it also teaches discipline and promotes pride in our school. Activities take place at all times during the day and week. Early in the morning students can be seen coming to club meetings and late in the afternoons students are often involved in school or community projects. East High provided many activities so that all of the student body can be involved in our school.

"The extra-curricular activities at EHHS are great. You're never at a loss for things to do."
— Matt Jones, Sophomore

"Activities are something that we can all enjoy. As a senior I'd like to think that my three years at EHHS have been full of them!" — Sally Williamson, Senior

"THE AIRFORCE WAY"

The new Airforce Junior Reserve Officer Training Corp (ROTC) got off on the right foot for its first year at East High. Many students participated in this new class. More than sixty Cadets participated in many school activities such as Color Guard and parking cars for the football and basketball games. They were also in numerous parades, other Color Guard appearances, the airshow, and a variety of other events. In class the Cadets learn what it is like to be in the service by drill, field trips to Airforce bases, and general studies of Aerospace Science. One of the hardest things is meeting the grade requirements for promotion.

Nikki Arrowood shows off her new uniform. One of the most memorable days was when the Cadets wore their uniforms for the first time.

David Shook, Jon Fuge, and classmates stare off into space dreaming about futures in the Airforce. Many Cadets are looking for a life in the Armed Services.

Jeremiah Johnson leisurely walks to class. Jeremiah like most Cadets enjoy the ROTC class.

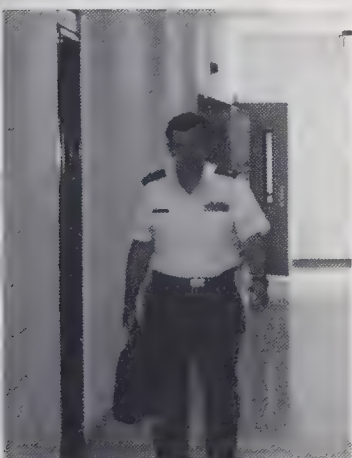

Nathan Marshall shares a grin for the camera. Nathan like other Cadets does not mind dressing up once a week for ROTC.

Felicia Stroud fixes her hat as she walks outside. The hat has to be worn every time a Cadet was outside.

Chad Ricker gives time for a smile during the seventh period ROTC class. ROTC is a class full of discipline, but also full of fun.

Senior Master Sergeant Blair walks to the ROTC room. SMSGT Blair handled the Leadership part of the program.

Bud McCall studying hard in Biology class or is he just daydreaming. Cadets had to keep up their grades to stay in this program.

Dustin Duke and Jon Richards turn around to see the figure in the doorway, who turns out to be a photographer.

Looking really enthused Nicole Jones hurries off to class. As a new student here at East, Nicole enjoys the atmosphere ROTC provides.

Marching Band

The band director, Mr. W.C. Lanning worked very hard to put this year's 84 member band together. This year's band show included selections "The House Of The Rising Sun," "Evil Ways," "Limbo Rock," "Shortin' Bread," and "I Can't Stop Lovin' You." It was a combination of rock and jazz that was appealing to all different types of audiences.

Mr. Lanning spent many long and sometimes sleepless nights to help the band. The band practiced every afternoon after school to ensure a successful season. Practice began even before school started and lasted until the last competition and parade was over.

Drum Major Cheryl Tuttle, flag corps captain Cherie Metcalf, and drum captains Joseph Lemasters and Terry Kirby led the band into two competitions. The first of these competitions was at Swain High School. The band received a rating of excellent. At Pisgah High School, they received a rating of superior. In addition to this, the marching band received awards for second place drum major, third place flag corps, third place horn line, and third overall in their division.

Band members are proud of their successful year and look forward to next season. The band is grateful to Mr. Lanning and Mrs. Smith, flag corps coordinator, for their hard work and dedication.

As part of the half-time show flag corps members danced for the crowd. These ladies showed enthusiasm and happiness for our Eagle team.

Mrs. Smith spent many hours helping the flag corps get their act together. Under her leadership, the flag corps performed flawlessly.

Band members often got nervous before the beginning of a performance. Often standing around would only increase the butterflies.

Going over the songs in her head, Jennifer Taylor has trouble remembering. Each band member had to memorized so they could make each performance the best it could be.

Amy Smith hurries to the concession stand before the band crowd. Third quarter break was one of the band members' favorite time.

In perfect formation, the band marches onto the field to play the National Anthem. It was always a pleasure to hear the band play at the football games, pep rallies, and competitions.

Symphonic And Concert

East Henderson's Symphonic Band is made up of sophomores, juniors, and seniors. This band worked very hard to put their winter concert together. They played everything from "Silvercrest Concert March" to "Have Yourself A Merry Little Christmas" to "The Thirteen Days of Christmas." With the wide range of musical styles that they played, their portion of the concert was great.

The other part was played by East's Concert Band. This freshman and sophomore band also worked hard to make the winter concert special since this was their first performance as a high school band. Like the symphonic band, the concert band played a wide variety of styles. Things like "Meadowlands," "Spiritus" and "Santa at the Symphony" brought out the best of these players.

Mr. Lanning worked very hard to prepare all the players but this year he had a little help. Ms. Tina Ballard was a student teacher from Western Carolina that helped get the students ready to play a few songs for the concert. Ms. Ballard became a friend to many students and was always good for a laugh.

Bands

Jon Klimstra and Justin Flores were the top two players in the trombone section. Each person worked hard to be the best.

Mr. Lanning keeps the band in great form. Here he directs the group through a difficult piece.

Cheryl Tuttle plays her heart out on the oboe. Cheryl enjoyed playing an instrument throughout her high school years.

Hallie and Judy concentrate on their music while Jessica and Brandon pose for the camera. We could always joke around with fellow band members.

Orchestra

Carman Beddingfield, Angela Owenby, And Paul Thomas work hard to get the notes down right. Most of the time the music they played was hard at first.

Jason Cox was one of the few trumpet players in orchestra. Most of the class was violins, violas, and cellos.

Rebecca Park counts the rests over in her head so she knows just when to come in. Students were always ready at a moment's notice.

This year the orchestra strived to be the better than ever before. Under the direction of Ms. Hall, they achieved this goal. Their winter concert included songs like "Swan Lake," "Didn't We Almost Have It All," and "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring." The orchestra is made up of violins, violas, cellos, brass, and woodwind instruments. With all of the various instruments combined, the orchestra sounded great!

Ms. Hall conducts the woodwinds through a warm-up time. It was always important to warm-up before beginning to play.

Students With Voices

Nicole Glisson, Melonie Orr, Kim Stepp and Kim Hodges all concentrate really hard at staying on pitch.

The 1993-94 Chorus classes were very diverse in people and songs. We had two concert choirs and one advanced chorus named Encore. Advanced Chorus attended two festivals for competition and received a "1" Superior for both. The festivals were held at Mars Hill College and Asheville High School where over 20 high schools attended. We also performed for the student body at graduation and when asked how she felt about the chorus classes this year, Mrs. Dobson replied, "We have come a long way since last year. I am extremely proud of the progress that has been made since the beginning of the year and the success we have had at our first festivals."

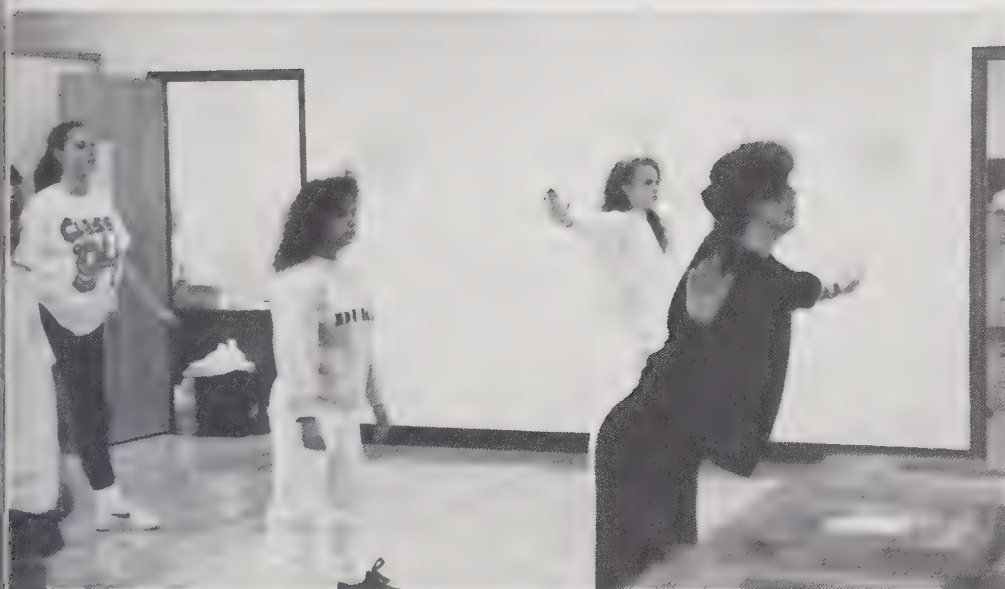

Mrs. Dobson takes time out of her very busy schedule to help Bobby Styles.

Danielle Best and Kyle Cole are busy paying attention while Bridgette Henderson smiles at the camera. Students didn't have many chances to socialize in chorus.

The Advanced Chorus this year consisted of 46 members. This was biggest advance chorus that has ever passed through EHHS.

DANCING WITH CLASS

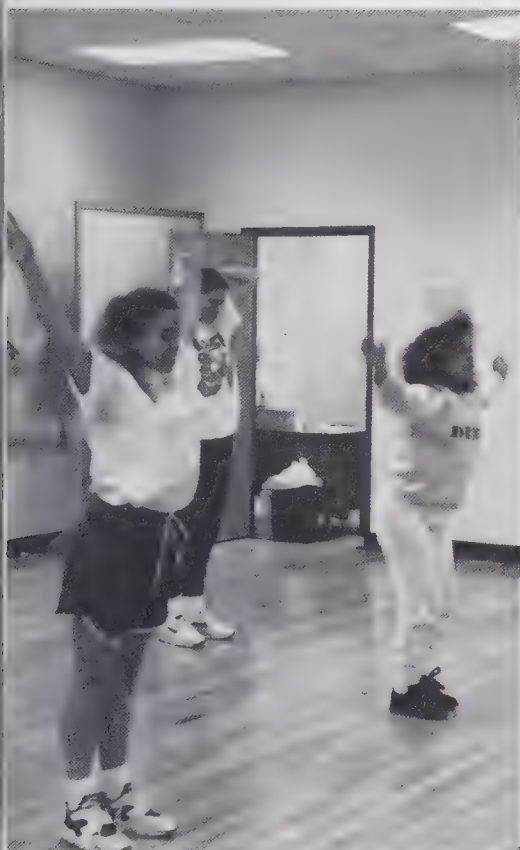

While taking a second to find out just exactly what Mrs. McCain-Sargent was doing, Missy Osteen pays close attention.

Dance class is a course here at East available to any student who is interested. There are two beginner/moderate classes and one advanced class. Both males and females are welcomed and encouraged to take this class.

The dance teacher is Mrs. Lynne McCain-Sargent, one of the many new faces among the faculty at East this year. Besides being here three hours a day, she also shares her knowledge with the sixth grade dance students at Flat Rock Middle School.

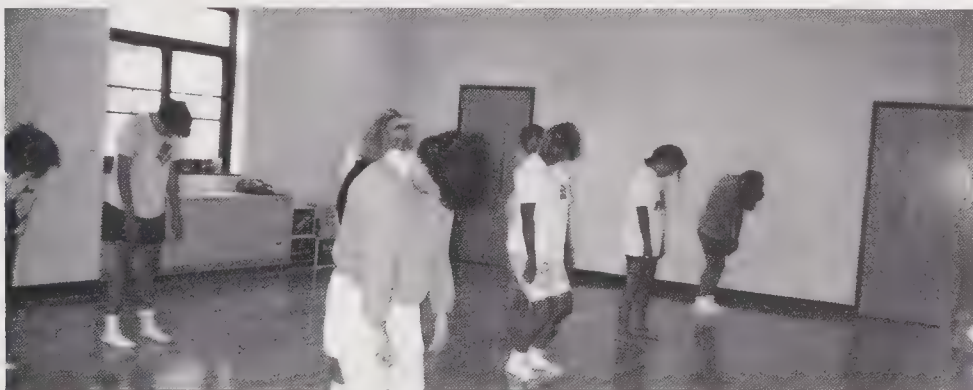

Sophomore Elizabeth Whaley enjoyed the class. "It was different than I was used to, but I really liked it anyway," she said. Senior Sheila Campbell added some Humor by saying, "I like dance, and because I have it first period, it helps get me energized for the day. Like the Energizer Bunny, I keep going and going and going"

Jennifer Rhodes follows the class as she does her daily arm exercises.

Jennifer Rhodes seems to be enjoying herself while Jennifer Claire looks around to make sure she is on the right track.

Mrs. McCain-Sargent shows her class how to get their bodies relaxed.

Working Minds

The Quiz Bowl Team had a very wonderful year with Mrs. Susan Sluder as the sponsor and Michelle Capell as captain. Competitions were held in mid January with ten people making up the team. Several helped make this year successful. The team had to study a lot and keep up with current events. Team members practiced every Thursday afternoon to be ready for the questions asked on everything going on in the world today.

April Stepp, John Godehn, and Ashley Hornsby are busy preparing for competition. Practicing every week keeps the team on top of all current events.

As captain of the Quiz Bowl team Michelle Capell, leads the team in practice.

DRAMA CLASS

Drama is a course here at East that is available to everyone. In this class, students learn how to sew costumes, do make-up and hair design, and build sets. They also learn different styles of acting and get acquainted with the stage.

Drama class is taught by Leigh Ann Stacy. Before coming to East, Ms. Stacy taught drama to children at Elementary schools throughout Henderson County. This was Ms. Stacy's second year at East.

As she takes a second to look up from reading her lines, Cindy Strickland can't resist to cast a quick glance at the camera.

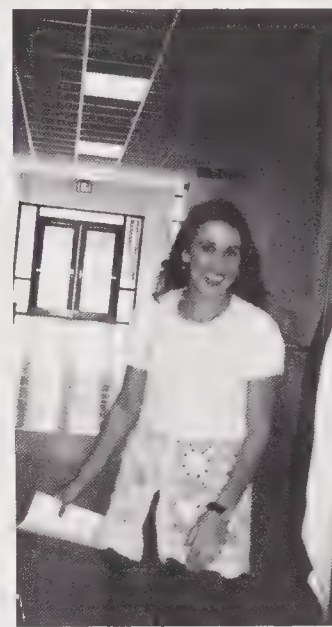

In Drama class, people often broke up into small groups to go over their lines. These guys took it back stage.

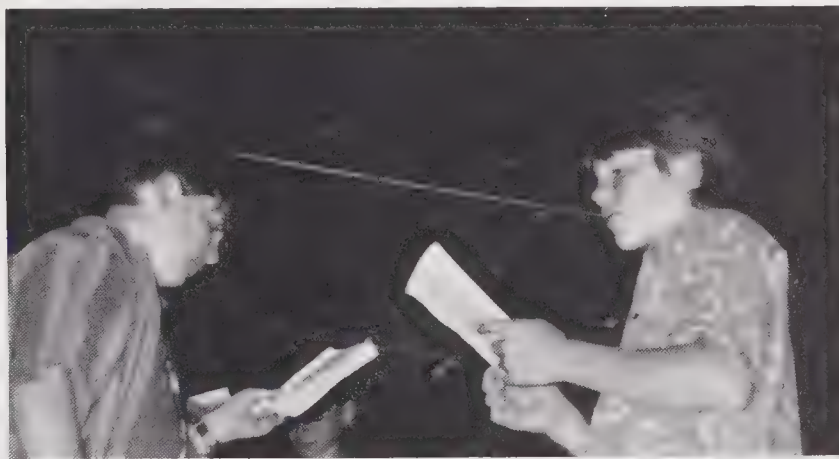

Sheila Campbell and friends break away from the group to get in a little extra practice.

Jason Pease plays "king of the mountain" on stage. Everyone took a break every now and then just to goof off.

Andrea Johnston needed more practice on her lines, so she took them to class with her!

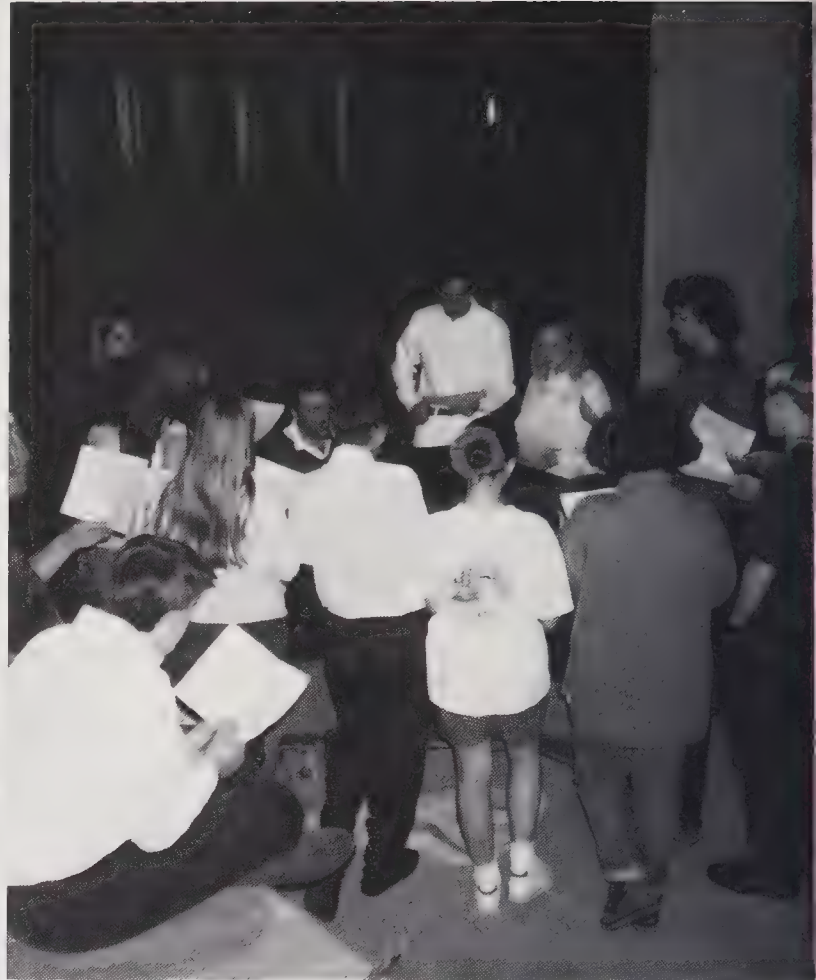

Finally, Brock Jackson is ready to perform on stage in front of the class.

A CLASSY ACT

"No more turning away," a play concerned with the civil war in Yugoslavia was the first performance by the East High Drama Class. Not only did students perform this play, but they also wrote the play and all the music and lyrics that went along with it. This play was taken to competition at Mars Hill College where it won numerous awards such as best set design. In February, the drama classes put together a children's show that included the plays "The Princess Bride" and "Hamlet." Students enjoyed projects such as this because they were able to show their creativity and imagination.

David Olson must be enjoying all of this attention. Stars have to get used to the spotlight.

Practice for the singing parts was just as important as rehearsing the lines. This group was getting ready for opening night.

While the rest of the group is discussing their lines, Jake Gardener takes "five."

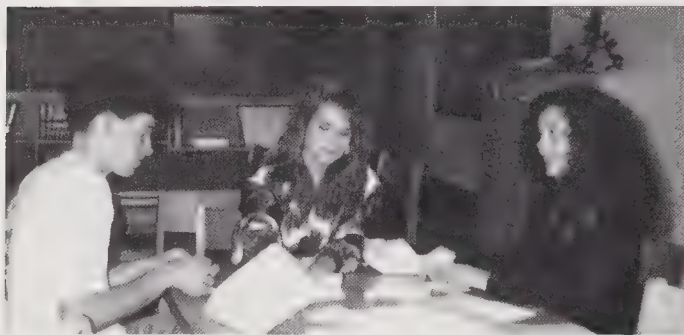

Andrea Johnston sings her part to perfection. Everyone's mouth closed when hers opened.

MEDIA CENTER

It seemed as if construction on our new Media Center would never be through. After all the moving and getting organized the Media Center was ready and open for business in 1993. With a bigger area and more computers our students consider themselves extremely lucky to have such a modern facility. Approximately 7,000 books are in our Media Center that allow students a wide variety of choice. Also included in our Media Center are many magazines, video, newspapers and research materials. Students can expand their minds and knowledge everyday in the East High Media Center.

Filing cards for the Media Center Marc Helton, Stephanie Peterson and Kami Collins hurry to get done. Thanks to the new computers, going to the Media Center was more convenient for everyone.

Media aides Chris Nodurft, Melissa Dahle, Josh Howard and Donna Leslie pose for a group shot. Media aides were always a big help to everyone.

Waiting to help someone check out a book, Tamera Gragg flashes us one of her big smiles. If you needed help someone was always there to assist you.

Taking a break from straightening shelves Janet Kirby and Michael Kleiner take a moment to clown around. All work and no play makes for a dull day.

Media Coordinators — Judy Smith and Emmaleen Maxwell

Reading her homework assignment, Jennifer Pruitt relaxes in the comfortable chairs. Most students used extra library time to do their homework.

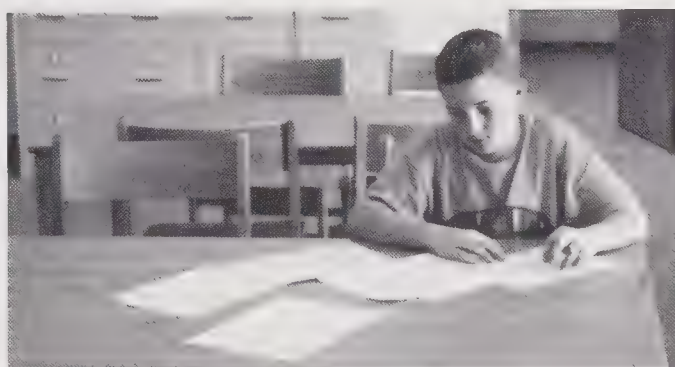

Reading a magazine article for the Debate Team, Ashley Hornsby and April Stepp try to concentrate while being disturbed.

Looking at a newspaper article, Michelle Capell wonders how some things can happen. A selection of different newspapers were always available for students to read.

Through with her work, Andrea Little watches the clock for the bell to ring. Teachers often scheduled times for their classes to work in the library.

Finishing his research paper, Brian Fulmer goes over a few last facts. If it was information you needed, the library was the place to get it.

The staff of the Eagle Eye has worked diligently to produce one high quality paper after another. Overseen by editor Emily Harbin, the staff has combed the halls of the school, searching for the news that you want to read. This year the Eagle Eye has a new look. The focus is on reporting news if interesting to students and including more articles just for fun.

New this year is an opinion column called The Wings of the Eagle, presenting both sides of a controversial issue, The Secret Life of ..., an in depth interview telling you what teachers really do in their free time, and Flo and Joe's advice column, a column to give you light-hearted advice if you have a problem.

The entire staff is guided by Ms. Crisp, the journalism teacher, Mr. Jarvis, the computer advisor and Ms. Loftin, the vigilant proofreader. The Eagle Eye has enjoyed a fair measure of success this year, thanks to the enthusiasm and dedication of their staff and sponsors, but they could not have done it without the support of the students. The students of East High are what makes the news of the Eagle Eye happen.

Emily Harbin and Ms. Crisp are working on the newspaper agenda so that the staff will know who will do what on the next issue. This was very important for a well organized paper.

Greg Hyder and Wes Jamerson are working on an article for the next issue of the paper. This was necessary for a successful issue of the paper.

Ms. Crisp aids her students; Corey Hoots, Emily Harbin, and Kelly Pace; on their articles that were due for the next issue of the paper. The guidance of Ms. Crisp kept the newspaper staff in tact.

Jennifer Pruitt takes time away from her classmates to work on her article. Hard work and a little peace and quiet were necessary for having a good article.

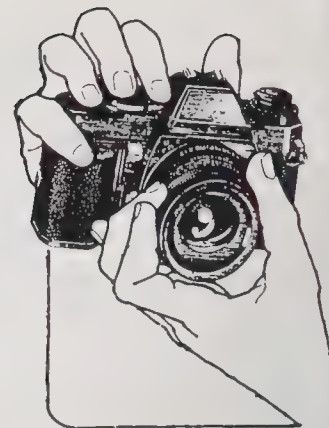

Larry poses outside of his classroom on his way to do some important errands for the newspaper staff. The newspaper staff has many things to do to prepare for the next issue of the paper.

Kelly Pace, Corey Hoots, David Olson, and Jay Sandos took a time out to have a little fun. Being on the newspaper staff was a lot of work but there was time for fun.

JOURNALISM

This year's annual staff had some major obstacles before them. With a relatively new staff and new advisor this class had to work together for a great yearbook. Meeting everyday during 7th period, the yearbook staff managed to meet deadlines so the 93-94 classes would have a book of memories. Putting together a special yearbook takes time and plenty of effort. From drawing layouts to taking pictures, the staff had to keep up with many ongoing projects. During the summer, Nikki Condrey, Cindi Saltz, and Olivia Morgan went to a Workshop at Chapel Hill to learn to put those special touches in the yearbook. Students on the yearbook staff really enjoyed the "Year of Class"!!

Marti Hardin looks through pictures to decide which one to use on her layout.

Andi Hollingsworth reads over her copy.

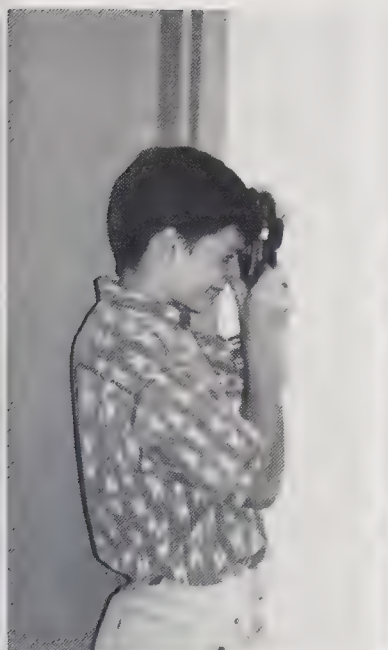

Elizabeth Whaley stares in concentration as she draws a layout.

A peek at Journalism Class.

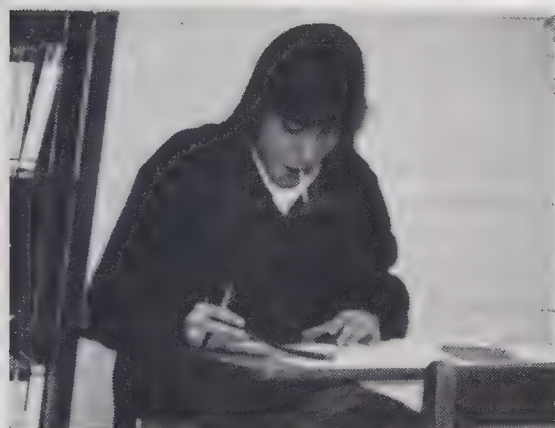

Chris and Jamie look through an old yearbook together to get ideas.

"Our reputation speaks for itself"

Jessica, You are a very special young lady. You have made us especially proud and have brought much happiness into our lives. We wish you the best that life has to offer. Remember that you will always be our "little girl" and that we will always be here for you.

Congratulations, We Love You!
Mom and Dad

Kami-Jill Collins: My "daughter", my "left hand", and my "best friend" — To say I'm proud of you is an understatement because words cannot express how much you mean to me. You've become a very sweet and caring young woman whose beauty goes further than skin deep. I pray God will bless you throughout your life; always keep your eyes on Jesus! Remember, I'm always here for you and I love you more than you know.

Love, Mommie

I Love You, Too!! Andy
Watch Out World — "Here comes Kami, the one and only!!!"

Congratulations, Cindy!!

Nikki,

Your shining personality combined with your dedication to excellence have made you a wonderful daughter. We are so proud of you!!

Love,
Dad, Mom, Chris, and Shawn

Jeff,

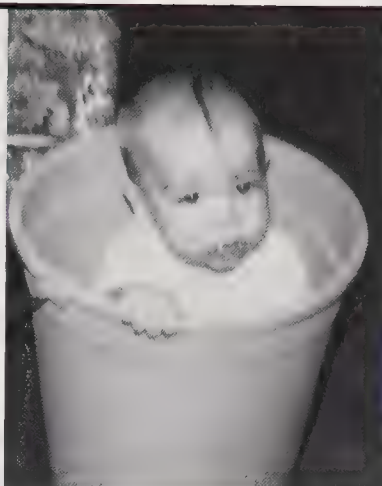

Congratulations! We're very proud of all your hard work and accomplishments. What a joy and blessing you've been to us. You're a son to indeed be proud of. May God Bless and Watch Over You Always!

Love,
Dad, Mom, and Jared

Congratulations, Julie!

You've made it! We are very proud of you and all of your accomplishments have paid off. God truly blessed us with a special daughter. Our love for you is never ending and we will always be here for you. May all your dreams come true, no matter what the future brings, success is yours if you stay determined to do your best!

Love, Mom and Dad

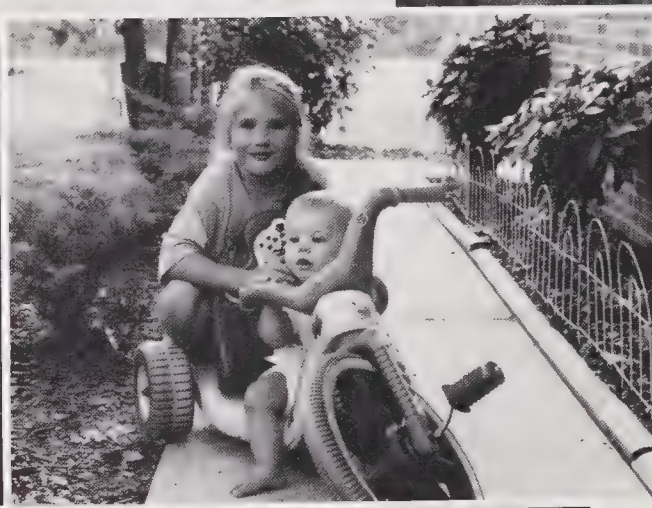

Mandi,

When you started school 18 years ago, we remember telling you not to be afraid to be different—to embrace your love for Jesus and take a stand for what you believed in. You did just that. Thank you for never disappointing us. We are proud of you and will love you always.

Troy and Lana

Scott Summery

Scott,

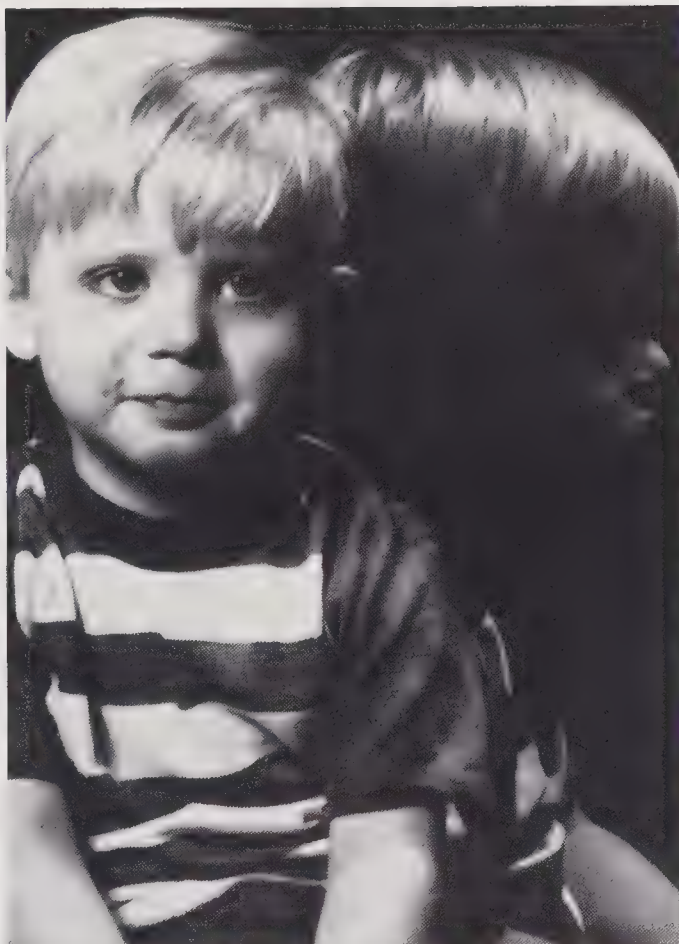

Life has already gave you a challenge and you met it head on with courage and determination and didn't give in. Now it's time to have the same courage and determination again. As you strive to reach your goal in adult life I want you to know that I am very proud of you and love you very much and I will always be around if you need me. Just call 1-800-MOM. Love ya,
Mom

Scott,

I bet you didn't know mom was going to buy this page for you. I know I didn't tell you about it. I couldn't, mom said she would break my arm. I hope the best for you, Scott, because you have had some hard times in your life, but you have pulled through them all and I am proud of you for that. I will always be there for you if you need anything. Have a lot of fun this year because it is your last! Love ya Bro,
Paul

Scott,

You have come a long way since those morning ketchup sandwiches. May all your hopes and dreams come true. I'll always be a phone call away. Love ya,
Perry

Dear Scott,

May you always walk in sunshine and never in the rain. May God direct each footstep you take. Thanks for loving us all the same. Love,

Mamaw and Papaw
Summery,
Lisa, Gwen, Paul, John,

David

Scott,

I'm so proud of you, for you not to be my real brother, I love you as if you were! Love, Tammie

Way to go, Uncle Scott! I love you, Hayden

Congratulations!

Nancy,
We are so thankful and proud of you. We love you!

Peter, Mom, and Ellen-Anne

Amy,
We are so proud of you. Always stay the sweet person that you are. Always keep God first in your life and you will richly blessed. We love you, Mom, Tom and Tim

Christina,
You are a wonderful daughter. I am so proud of you. Congratulations! I love you very much, Mom

Andi, (Panda Bear, and Shorty),
Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge Him and He shall direct thy paths. Pro 3:5,6. We love you and are so proud of you. Remember to put Christ first in all you do and you can do anything.

Mom, Dad, and Brandy

Taffee,
We are so proud of you, our Lord blessed us with such a special daughter as you. Stay as you are! IN ALL THY WAYS ACKNOWLEDGE HIM AND HE SHALL DIRECT THY PATH, remember this and he will take care of you and your future. We love you, daughter. I love you, sis.

Dawn, Dad, and Mom

Melissa,
We are very proud of you, your accomplishments and your high standards. We wish you the best of success in all your worthy endeavors. Always remember the golden rule and life will not only be better for you but also for those you help along the way.

Love, Mom and Dad

Your smile has always lighted up our lives. Our prayer for you is God's continued blessing on your life and your guardian angel will always be present to watch over and protect you. We are very proud of you and will love you always. Mom, Dad, and Tony

Joe Murphy,

We were truly blessed the day you were born. We are so proud of the fine young man you have become. You have already accomplished much and we know your future is sound because you have shown us you can do anything you put your mind to. Don't forget we will always be there for you. Congratulations!

Amber,

You are one of life's greatest blessings to us. We are so proud of you, and we love you very much! Way to go, Bubba!

Love, Dad, Mom, and Leah

Dear Melonie,

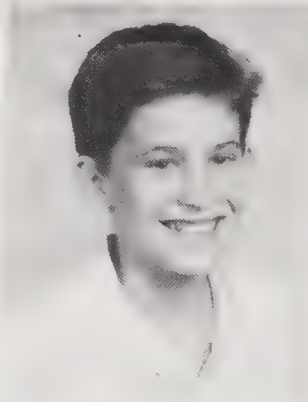

We are so proud of you. You can accomplish anything you want in life, if you want it bad enough. Keep your goals high, with God's help, all your dreams will come true! We love you, a lot! Mom and Dad

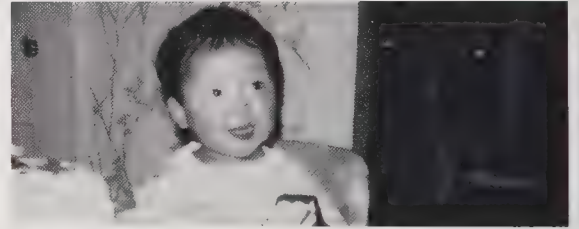

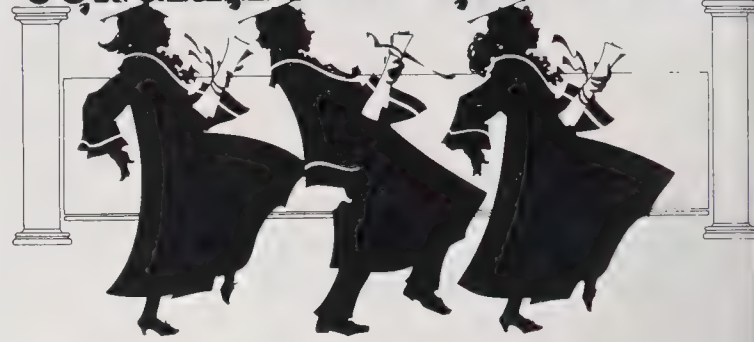

Congratulations Marc,
We are so proud of you

Dear Josh,
 Congratulations big guy, you have finally made it! (Although once or twice we thought about having you repeat Driver's Ed. Ha!) Thanks for all the good times we have enjoyed together, for being a wonderful "big bro" and helping the little man with homework, for being a great listener, but most of all for growing into the fine man we always knew you would be.

Love you Bud,
 Dad, Mom, & Joseph

Congratulations to our girls — Jamie & Michelle You started together and have shared your lives. We love you and are proud of you. May you be guided by God.

Jennifer,

You are a great daughter and sister who has brought a lot of joy into our lives.
We're so proud of you and all you have achieved. Good luck in all that you endeavor and remember we'll always be there for you. You are a very special person and a beautiful young lady.

Love, Mom, Dad, and Jeff

Dearest Beth,
If God had let us place a special order for a daughter, we would have ordered you. We are very proud to be your parents. You meet every challenge with a mature and positive attitude. Always keep your strong will and determination and continue to set high goals for yourself.

Keep smiling, We love you!
Mom and Dad

Berfina,
Congratulations! You are a great little sister and I love you,
Lisa

Craig,
May your future hold all the love, happiness, and joy you've given us over the past 18 years. Your accomplishments have been many, and reason to make any parents hearts burst with pride. You are a wonderful young man with the world before you. Choose wisely and always know how much you're loved.

Mom and Dad

Becky,
From the day you were born you filled our hearts with a special joy. Your sensitivity, loving ways, and love of God have given us so much to be proud of. Watching you grow into the lovely young lady you are has been a wonderful blessing. With your abilities and values we know you can accomplish all your dreams. Congratulations on graduation. We Love You So Much. "Where you been, Becky Lynn? Round the world and going again!"

Love,
Mom, Dad, Lisa, and Neil

AL, CONGRATULATIONS ON A JOB WELL DONE!
WE'RE VERY PROUD OF YOU AND ALL YOUR ACCOMPLISHMENTS.

LOVE,
DAD, MOM AND MICHAEL

Dear David,

Part of being a parent is finding the strength to let you go ... to let you grow from your mistakes and heartaches ... to let you know that you can make it on your own.

We've tried to give you the space you need to make your own decisions ... take your own chances ... and feel your own way in the world.

But we hope you'll always remember that we love you with all our heart and soul, and that we are here for you ... no matter what you need or where you go.

We are so proud of you!

Love,
Dad & Mom
Andy & Matthew

Thanks to all my friends that have helped me through these past thirteen years! Thanks to Kim for letting me use her pool and to Debbie for the ping-pong game at Clyde Savings Bank. Thanks to Shannon for being there for me when I broke my knee and to Sheila for all your support. Thanks to Cindi for the past thirteen years of crazy and stupid stuff — can't wait till Western! Most of all I thank God for all my friends and the wonderful moments I have had with them.

Love Ya,
Jamie

I just wanted to tell all my close friends thank you for being such a special part of my life! My world would of been very empty without ALL of you. Thanks especially to Jamie for spending the night with me in wierd people's driveways and letting me eat all your chocolate. Thomas Fuller said, "If you have one true friend, you have more than your share." I know for certain that I have much more than my share! Thanks!

Love,
Cindi

Rick,

hey there sweetie! This year was okay
I wish we would have had some classes together but we couldn't help that! You are a great guy and you're also a great friend. I love you a lot I really do you've always been there to make me laugh and to argue with me when I disagreed with you our friendship means a lot to me
I'm glad I can talk to you about anything (but other guys) I still want to go to your races with you and I still want you to drive me every where when you get your license. In your awesome Jeep you always brag to me about. I can't wait to see it. You need to ask ~~the~~ Nikki out cause she's the best girl you can find. Rick, you're a good person and you're very sweet! I want you to keep in touch. I have my own phone line now I guess I've already told you that!
My number is 697-2529. Don't forget that.
I think you know my address too. Don't ever change! Maybe this summer we can do something
We might even get in some classes together too. Well,
I think I've filled up enough. I meant everything
I said! Don't forget that! I love you a lot!
Come and see me at piggy's
